America Urges Quick Use Of U N Troops in Egypt

Senate Lineup Now Confused, Complicated

4 States Presenting Circumstances Tied To Eventual Control

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democrats have won numerical control of the next Senate by at least one vote but circumstances in four races could throw organization of the chamber either way.

That involves such matters as committee chairmanships which have a heavy bearing on the fate of legislation. The unsettled questions are in Kentucky, Ohio, New York and Texas.

With 49 votes required for a majority, the count by party labels is 49 Democrats elected against 46 Republicans, with the Republican leading in the one undecided contest.

That undecided race is in Kentucky where the GOP's Thurston B. Morton led Sen. Earle C. Clements in today's early count om the balloting Tuesday.

If the trend were maintained, the division would be 49-47.

That would bring the question down to the stand of Ohio's Gov. Frank J. Lausche. A Democrat, he ousted Republican Sen. George H. Bender.

• • •

BUT LAUSCHE has said that under certain circumstances he might vote with the Republicans on organization of the Senate. The suggestion was that he would go with the GOP if President Eisenhower were re-elected (something that has happened) and if the Senate division were close—which it is.

A Lausche flip-flop on the organization issue could create a 48-48 tie which Vice President Nixon could break in the Republicans' favor.

But today Lausche put out a hint he might avoid the whole issue by letting the Democrats organize the Senate without him.

If all the other senators were present that would let the Democrats take over by a vote of 48 to 46 or 47.

That is where the Texas and New York circumstances come in.

New York's Republican Atty. Gen. Jacob K. Javits has won a Senate seat, but he might not be on hand the first day, which would cut down the GOP tally.

Javits has said he plans to stay on in the state job until Jan. 9, when the GOP-controlled Legislature convenes and could name a Republican successor.

Texas' Democratic Sen. Price Daniel has been elected governor of his state but he is a senator until he resigns. He has resigned effective Jan. 15 or at such earlier time as a successor senator is qualified.

Daniel has asked for an early special election but none has been called so far. There are half a dozen Democratic hopefuls and in that situation the Republicans hope to win the seat through a split Democratic vote. Or there could be an appointment, which presumably would go Democratic.

New Traffic Control Setup Near Completion

Washington C. H. will have a new traffic light control system in operation within the ne t six weeks, perhaps even within 30 days, if everything goes according to schedule.

However, City Manager James F. Parkinson made it plain that this is a "hope," not an "assurance." The time for completing the installation, he said, depends alm o s t entirely on arrival of addition a l equipment.

The new control system, he explained, will synchronize 15 traffic lights in the business district and its adjacent area. Included are the four along Court St., four on Market St., four on Temple St., two on East St. and the one at the North - Paint St. intersection.

The system, will be operat e d from a master control at City Hall. The control probably will be set up in the Fire Department.

• • •

THE LIGHTS, Parkinson explained, will be synchronized to permit a steady flow of traffic on Court St. and lights on the other streets will be timed with them. He said they will be set to change alternately at 23-second intervals at the start, but that traffic flow will be studied and changes made in the timing if necessary.

It also will be possible, he said, to clear Court St. without affecting the system on the other streets. For example: Should an A r m y convoy move through the city, the lights on Court St. could be set on amber to halt traffic while t h e system on Market, Temple a n d East Sts. would continue in normal operation.

The new system also will provide what was described as a "fire lane" — that is, the red can be held on all lights for a pre-determined period along the route of the fire fighting equipment.

The timing also can be regulated to suit different conditions, such as the congestion in late aftern o o n when people are going home.

The heavy two - wire aerial cable is now being strung by the Laufer Electrical Co. of Bloomingburg, low bidder on the job. This will replace the old underground cable which, Parkinson pointed out, has caused much trouble and expense in recent years.

• • •

ONCE THE CABLE is in place, the next step will be the installation of the controller boxes on one of the poles supporting each of the

Western States Getting Winter

CHICAGO (AP)—It was cold today in broad areas of the western two-thirds of the country, ending a long spell of mild weather in many places.

First snow of the season fell in sections of the north central states but amounts were generally light. The snow belt spread from the northern Mississippi Valley into the Great Lakes region.

Youth Said Suicide When Hit by Train

He was identified by Police Lt. George Vicarelli as Steve Duh Jr. of Cleveland.

The lieutenant said engineer Louis Wood of Holland, Ohio, and other members of the train crew told him the youth walked out from behind some freight cars parked on an adjoining track and lay down in the train's path.

Bet Is Paid Off

You're Right . . . That Was Snow!

Dark clouds and rapidly falling temperatures brought t h e first scattered snowflakes of the season to Fayette County Thursday afternoon.

And the weatherman's prognostication carried no good tidings for sunbathers. Temperatures are expected to drop as low as 10 degrees below the freezing mark Thursday night with a high in the 40's Friday. Any further snow activity is expected to be limited to Northern Ohio where light flurries are possible.

Lausche Calls Special Phone Strike Parley

COLUMBUS (AP)—Gov. Frank J. Lausche said today he will postpone calling a special legislative session to consider the Portsmouth, Ohio telephone strike situation until he has talked again with telephone company and union officials Friday.

Lausche said he has asked three representatives of the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. and three members of the Communications Workers of America to confer with him.

A strong protest to the proposed special legislative session, meanwhile, was sounded by the Ohio State Federation of Labor.

Phil Hannah, secretary-treasurer of the federation, called the special session "fantastic." Gov. Frank J. Lausche called the session, possibly for next week, after officials of the struck Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. refused to set up emergency telephone service for the Portsmouth area.

In a letter to the governor, the federation said the session would be "an extravagant waste of state funds and the time of members of the Legislature in attempting to legislate laws based on the recommendations which already have been declared invalid by the Supreme Court."

Portsmouth has been without telephone service since Oct. 16 when company installations in that area were stoned. Some 600 members of the Communications Workers of America in parts of 24 Ohio counties have been on strike against the company nearly four months.

The union has denied responsibility for strike violence.

Unfriendly Congress Seen Facing Ike

Democrats To Retain Control of Both House and Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower was confronted today with the prospect of an increasingly unfriendly Congress in the aftermath of his re-election.

Although he defeated Adlai E. Stevenson by more than nine million votes, his party took a political defeat when Democrats won both houses of Congress.

Neither was there concrete evidence to substantiate Eisenhower's contention that "modern Republicanism" had achieved a victory. On the contrary, it appeared that the personal popularity which gave him 41 states and 457 electoral votes did not sift down to general GOP candidates.

Increased antagonism by the new Congress above that displayed by the Democratic 84th to some of Eisenhower's proposals seemed likely to make itself felt primarily on domestic issues.

• • •

THE NARROWNESS of party margins in both Sena'e and House made it certain t l a t on most issues final decisions, as in the last four years, would be made by two-part" coalitions rather than on strict party lines.

A still undecided Kentucky senatorial ra'e seemed likely to decide the firmness of Democratic control over that body.

In the House the Democrats had elected 229 members, 11 more than the necessary majority, to the Republicans' 199. Democrats were leading in 6 of the 7 undecided races.

The present division is 232-203.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas h a s attributed Eisenhower's ballot appeal in party to what he said was the fact that "in a moment of peril, the American people voted to back up their President and demonstrate to t h e world that America is united."

While Democrats generally shared Johnson's avowed willingness to cooperate on international matters, they left little doubt they will question closely many Eisenhower domestic proposals.

He couldn't jump clear and the car knocked him down, went on a 100 feet and hit a power pole.

U N Pushing Police Force Program Despite Opposition

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The United Nations pushed ahead today with its plans for formation of a Middle East police force despite Israeli defiance and British-French refusal to withdraw from the Suez Canal Zone until the U.N. troops are on the spot.

The General Assembly, aft e r an all-day debate, Wednesday night approved Secretary Dag Hammarskjold's plan for the emergency force to police the cease-fire in Egypt and supervise withdrawal of foreign troops.

The Assembly resolution asked the new U. N. command headed by Canadian Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns "to proceed forthwith with the full organization" of the force.

The Assembly also adopted a resolution calling on Britain and France "immediately to withdraw forces from Egyptian territory" and on Israel to pull out of Egypt's Sinai Peninsula and Gaza Strip, the territory she occupied in her sweep into Egypt.

Israel's refusal to cooperate with the U. N. force was announced to the Parliament in Jerusalem by Premier David Ben-Gurion.

He said Israel would not agree to the stationing of a foreign force "in her territory or in any of the area occupied by her."

Hammarskjold told the Assembly that if the Israeli troops did not withdraw to the Palestine armistice line after the U.N. force arrived, he would go to the General Assembly or the Security Council "for such measures as those two main organs of the United Nations might decide upon."

Britain's chief delegate, Sir Pierson Dixon, told the Assembly if British and French troops occupying the northern sector of the canal zone "were withdrawn before a United Nations force were to arrive and take control, the separation of Egypt and Israel which we have achieved would break down . . . The United Nations force might arrive too late to prevent a new conflagration."

Egyptian Delegate Omar Loutfi as insistently called for the British, French and Israelis to get out at once. He declared that "nothing can be done until the withdrawl is carried out."

The vote approving Hammarskjold's plan for the force was 64-0, with Egypt, Israel, South Africa and the Soviet bloc abstaining. Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vassily V. Kuznetsov charged that the plan "is an open attempt to secure a decision suitable to the United Kingdom and France."

The Assembly approved the call for immediate troop withdrawals 65-1, with 10 abstentions. Only Israel voted against it.

The number of nations volunteering men for the U. N. force rose to 12—Canada, Ceylon, Colombia, Czechoslovakia, Denmark, Finland, India, New Zealand, Norway, Pakistan, Romania, Sweden.

The secretary general's plan calls for a force of "a few units of battalion strength." A battalion usu lly is 800 to 1,000 men.

U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. told the Assembly the United States is ready to help transport the troops and furnish supplies. Troops of the United States, along with those of the other four permanent "big power" members of the Security Council, are barred from the police group.

FROM VICTORY TO CRISES—A sweeping second-term victory behind him, President Eisenhower plunges into conferences with his top leaders on the Middle East and eastern European crises. Here he and Herbert Hoover Jr., under-secretary of state, leave Walter Reed hospital following a bedside conference with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

Old Controversial Issues Due To Face New Congress

Domestic problems include federal aid for school construction, civil rights, farm and labor policies, and statehood for Hawaii and Alaska.

Democrats, who wrested control from the Republicans two years ago, reelected majorities to both branches of Congress Tuesday.

But the new Congress, like others in recent years, will be dominated by a Southern Democratic-Republican coalition and can be expected to steer a middle-of-the-road course.

Eisenhower already has bid for renewed bipartisan support in the tense international situation by calling top congressional leaders to the White House Friday for a briefing on events in Eastern Europe and the Middle East.

Once the legislators settle down to work, they are bound to come to grips again with the issue of federal aid for school construction to help the states overcome the present classroom shortage.

• • •

AT THE LAST session, federal aid legislation bogged down in a welter of controversy over the Supreme Court's school desegregation decision and the method of apportioning funds.

In the election campaign, Democrats and Republicans blamed each other for defeat of the school bill in the House. Both parties promised to push new legislation in the coming session.

Another source of controversy is an administration bill to provide greater protection for voting privileges and other civil rights and to create a civil rights division in the Justice Department and a presidential commission to investigate civil rights complaints.

Renewed efforts to revise or repeal the Taft-Hartley Labor Relations Act are in prospect, but just how far they will get is questionable.

Another well-worn issue confronting the new Congress will be statehood for the territories of Hawaii and Alaska. The Republicans as well as the Democrats, are now pledged to immediate statehood for both, although the GOP platform declares that in granting statehood to Alaska, adequate provision must be made for defense requirements.

New Yorkers Demonstrate Against Reds

NEW YORK (AP) — A menacing crowd of 3,000 surged toward the headquarters of the Russian United Nations delegation on Park Avenue Wednesday night as the Red elite within downed champagne and vodka toasts to the 39th anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution.

As guests passed in and out of the Red delegation's headquarters pickets held placards high. Some of them read:

"Don't drink champagne mixed with Hungarian blood."

"Get out of America, you murderers."

"Sobolev stop lying." The first three letters of the last name of chief U.N. Delegate Arkady A. Sobolev were capitalized.

Sobolev was host at the affair inside.

Police finally gave the "move on" order, and within 10 minutes the crowd vanished.

Budapest Radio Says Famine Faces Revolt-Torn Hungary

VIENNA (AP)—Budapest radio announced today famine threatens revolt-torn Hungary. It begged the country in the name of the Russians' puppet government to struggle back to normal.

From Geneva, the International Red Cross committee asked the Soviet government to negotiate with the Hungarian combatants for an immediate truce in the battle of Budapest to permit evacuation of wounded.

Numerous casualties of street fighting at noon Wednesday were reported lying where they fell and cut off from medical aid.

Within the Hungarian capital, ringed by Soviet tanks in formations that resembled siege lines, radio Budapest urged all foodstuff workers to return to their jobs.

So urgent was the situation that the government ordered trucks engaged in transport of provisions to carry big, easily visible signs identifying them as food trucks.

• • •

SOVIET TROOPS will give every possible assistance to keep such food supplies moving, the broadcast said.

The same broadcast indicated a severe shortage of shoes and clothing. It appealed to pawn shops to return all shoes and clothing worth less than 500 forints (about $45 at the official rate) to their owners without payment of premiums and present the pawn slips to the finance ministry.

The Soviet-installed puppet government of Premier Janos Kadar pleaded for resumption of normal life in Hungary, but admitted the rebellion against Russian domination was not fully crushed.

Judge Gives Aid To Federal Con

CINCINNATI (AP) — Jesse McWhorter can thank a judge here if he gets to be a "trusty" at Atlanta federal prison.

Judge J. H. Woeste Wednesday dismissed two old robbery indictments against McWhorter, who complained in a petition that they kept him from "enjoying prison privileges."

McWhorter is serving a 20-year term in Atlanta for the 1954 robbery of a Walnut Hills bank.

British, French, Israel Oppose Idea; U. S. Eyes Its Own Defense Setup

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The United States was reported urging all possible speed today in replacing British, French and Israeli forces in Egypt with peace-keeping troops under the flag of the United Nations.

The Suez Canal cease-fire appears to be hanging by a thread as the warring nations stand fast on opposing conditions for ending the strife.

The United Nations pressed efforts to set up an international force to police the cease-fire and withdrawal of British, French and Israeli troops from Egypt.

Britain and France flatly refused to pull out of the Suez Canal zone until the U. N. police force took over the area. Israeli Premier David Ben-Gurion said his government would not agree to any foreign force being stationed in Israel or on any territory it had occupied. Egypt demanded immediate withdrawal of the British, French and Israeli troops, a demand endorsed by the U. N.

• • •

DESPITE THE conflicting demands of the combatants, the U.N. General Assembly authorized the command of the new force, headed by Canadian Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, to "proceed forthwith with the full organization." Twelve nations already had offered troops, and some U. N. delegates predicted the first units would arrive in the Suez in two or three days.

Unless the switch can be made and the situation brought under control within a few days, official Washington believes there is grave danger of Soviet intervention with "volunteers" on the side of Egypt This could prolong and spread the conflict, and increase the chances for a third world war.

New Jersey Governor To Wed Ohioan

OBERLIN (AP) — The parents of Helen Day Stevenson, daughter of a college president, today announced her engagement to Gov. Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey.

Her father, William E. Stevenson, president of Oberlin College, said they plan to wed in January.

During the election campaign, Miss Stevenson worked for the Volunteers for Stevenson-Kefauver campaign. She shares a distant relative with the unsuccessful presidential candidate through her mother's side of her family.

Her father explained that like this:

"My wife's aunt married Spencer Ewing, who was a double first cousin of Adlai Stevenson's father."

A graduate of Colorado College, Miss Stevenson served with the Red Cross in Korea, later returning to this country, where she was employed at the United Nations building and as a public relations representative of an airline.

Republican Leads In Kentucky Race

The race, last to be decided in Tuesday's voting, was punctuated with statements implying that each side suspected the other of voting irregularities.

Lausche May Avoid Senate Reorganization Maneuvers

COLUMBUS (AP) — Ohio's Sen.-Elect Frank J. Lausche hinted today he might let his fellow Democrats organize the U. S. Senate without him.

In response to a direct question whether he would vote with the Republicans to organize that body, the five-term Democratic governor made this statement:

"I will finish my term as governor of Ohio. If the Senate is not organized by the time I am sworn in, I will then cast my vote, taking into consideration the composition of the Senate, the fact that Eisenhower is President and such other matters as I believe are pertinent."

Lausche let it be known as early as last June that, if elected, he might—under certain circumstances — consider voting with the GOP to organize the Senate if Eisenhower was elected.

His statement today suggested the possibility he might avoid the issue. That suggestion came when he said he plans to finish his term as governor, which ends Jan. 14. Congress convenes Jan. 3.

Lausche's absence from the first 11 days of the new Senate's session could mean the Democrats might go ahead and organize before Lausche becomes a member of it.

Democrats now are assured of at least 48 members in the Senate, including Lausche. Republicans have at least 46. If the GOP wins the undecided contest in Kentucky, it would have 47.

If 48 Democrats and 47 Republicans were to be present when the Senate convenes — with Lausche absent—the Democrats would be in unquestioned control.

Lausche repeatedly has said he would vote on Senate organization in the way he thought best after determining the b a l a n c e of strength and who was elected President.

He recalled difficulties with Republican-controlled Ohio Legislatures and asserted Eisenhower should not bear a similar burden if GOP organization of the U. S. Senate would prevent it.

"I want to repeat what I frequently said in the campaign,

U N Pushing Police Force Program Despite Opposition

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The United Nations pushed ahead today with its plans for formation of a Middle East police force despite Israeli defiance and British-French refusal to withdraw from the Suez Canal Zone until the U.N. troops are on the spot.

The General Assembly, aft e r an all-day debate, Wednesday night approved Secretary Dag Hammarskjold's plan for the emergency force to police the cease-fire in Egypt and supervise withdrawal of foreign troops.

The Assembly resolution asked the new U. N. command headed by Canadian Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns "to proceed forthwith with the full organization" of the force.

The Assembly also adopted a resolution calling on Britain and France "immediately to withdraw forces from Egyptian territory" and on Israel to pull out of Egypt's Sinai Peninsula and Gaza Strip, the territory she occupied in her sweep into Egypt.

The Assembly approved the call for immediate troop withdrawals 65-1, with 10 abstentions. Only Israel voted against it.

The number of nations volunteering men for the U. N. force rose to 12—Canada, Ceylon, Colombia, Czechoslovakia, Denmark, Finland, India, New Zealand, Norway, Pakistan, Romania, Sweden.

The secretary general's plan calls for a force of "a few units of battalion strength." A battalion usually is 800 to 1,000 men.

U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. told the Assembly the United States is ready to help transport the troops and furnish supplies. Troops of the United States, along with those of the other four permanent "big power" members of the Security Council, are barred from the police group.

FROM VICTORY TO CRISES—A sweeping second-term victory behind him, President Eisenhower plunges into conferences with his top leaders on the Middle East and eastern European crises. Here he and Herbert Hoover Jr., under-secretary of state, leave Walter Reed hospital following a bedside conference with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

Old Controversial Issues Due To Face New Congress

Domestic problems include federal aid for school construction, civil rights, farm and labor policies, and statehood for Hawaii and Alaska.

Democrats, who wrested control from the Republicans two years ago, reelected majorities to both branches of Congress Tuesday.

But the new Congress, like others in recent years, will be dominated by a Southern Democratic-Republican coalition and can be expected to steer a middle-of-the-road course.

Eisenhower already has bid for renewed bipartisan support in the tense international situation by calling top congressional leaders to the White House Friday for a briefing on events in Eastern Europe and the Middle East.

Once the legislators settle down to work, they are bound to come to grips again with the issue of federal aid for school construction to help the states overcome the present classroom shortage.

• • •

AT THE LAST session, federal aid legislation bogged down in a welter of controversy over the Supreme Court's school desegregation decision and the method of apportioning funds.

In the election campaign, Democrats and Republicans blamed each other for defeat of the school bill in the House. Both parties promised to push new legislation in the coming session.

Another source of controversy is an administration bill to provide greater protection for voting privileges and other civil rights and to create a civil rights division in the Justice Department and a presidential commission to investigate civil rights complaints.

Renewed efforts to revise or repeal the Taft-Hartley Labor Relations Act are in prospect, but just how far they will get is questionable.

Another well-worn issue confronting the new Congress will be statehood for the territories of Hawaii and Alaska. The Republicans as well as the Democrats, are now pledged to immediate statehood for both, although the GOP platform declares that in granting statehood to Alaska, adequate provision must be made for defense requirements.

Truce Appears To Be Hanging Only by Thread

British, French, Israel Oppose Idea; U. S. Eyes Its Own Defense Setup

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The United States was reported urging all possible speed today in replacing British, French and Israeli forces in Egypt with peacekeeping troops under the flag of the United Nations.

The Suez Canal cease-fire appears to be hanging by a thread as the warring nations stand fast on opposing conditions for ending the strife.

The United Nations pressed efforts to set up an international force to police the cease-fire and withdrawal of British, French and Israeli troops from Egypt.

Britain and France flatly refused to pull out of the Suez Canal zone until the U. N. police force took over the area. Israeli Premier David Ben-Gurion said his government would not agree to any foreign force being stationed in Israel or on any territory it had occupied. Egypt demanded immediate withdrawal of the British, French and Israeli troops, a demand endorsed by the U. N.

• • •

DESPITE THE conflicting demands of the combatants, the U.N. General Assembly authorized the command of the new force, headed by Canadian Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, to "proceed forthwith with the full organization." Twelve nations already had offered troops, and some U. N. delegates predicted the first units would arrive in the Suez in two or three days.

Unless the switch can be made and the situation brought under control within a few days, official Washington believes there is grave danger of Soviet intervention with "volunteers" on the side of Egypt This could prolong and spread the conflict, and increase the chances for a third world war.

New Jersey Governor To Wed Ohioan

Her father, William E. Stevenson, president of Oberlin College, said they plan to wed in January.

During the election campaign, Miss Stevenson worked for the Volunteers for Stevenson-Kefauver campaign. She shares a distant relative with the unsuccessful presidential candidate through her mother's side of her family.

Her father explained that like this:

"My wife's aunt married Spencer Ewing, who was a double first cousin of Adlai Stevenson's father."

A graduate of Colorado College, Miss Stevenson served with the Red Cross in Korea, later returning to this country, where she was employed at the United Nations building and as a public relations representative of an airline.

Western States Getting Winter

CHICAGO (AP)—It was cold today in broad areas of the western two-thirds of the country, ending a long spell of mild weather in many places.

First snow of the season fell in sections of the north central states but amounts were generally light. The snow belt spread from the northern Mississippi Valley into the Great Lakes region.

Youth Said Suicide When Hit by Train

He was identified by Police Lt. George Vicarelli as Steve Duh Jr. of Cleveland.

The lieutenant said engineer Louis Wood of Holland, Ohio, and other members of the train crew told him the youth walked out from behind some freight cars parked on an adjoining track and lay down in the train's path.

Bet Is Paid Off

HAYS, Kan. (AP)—F. F. Wasinger rode through the lobby of the Lamer Hotel on horseback Wednesday to pay off a bet. He bet Democrat George Docking wouldn't be elected governor. He was.

You're Right . . . That Was Snow!

Dark clouds and rapidly falling temperatures brought t h e first scattered snowflakes of the season to Fayette County Thursday afternoon.

And the weatherman's prognostication carried no good tidings for sunbathers. Temperatures are expected to drop as low as 10 degrees below the freezing mark Thursday night with a high in the 40's Friday. Any further snow activity is expected to be limited to Northern Ohio where light flurries are possible.

Salesman Run Down By His Own Auto

OMAHA (AP)—William Gundy, 47, a house to house salesman, was crossing a street when he looked up and saw a car bearing down on him.

He couldn't jump clear and the car knocked him down, went on a 100 feet and hit a power pole.

Said Gundy to police:

"I lay there wondering who that fool driver was. Then it dawned on me—it was my car!"

Gundy, who was badly bruised, had parked his car on a hill. The brakes slipped.

New Yorkers Demonstrate Against Reds

NEW YORK (AP) — A menacing crowd of 3,000 surged toward the headquarters of the Russian United Nations delegation on Park Avenue Wednesday night as the Red elite within downed champagne and vodka toasts to the 39th anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution.

As guests passed in and out of the Red delegation's headquarters pickets held placards high. Some of them read:

"Don't drink champagne mixed with Hungarian blood."

"Get out of America, you murderers."

"Sobolev stop lying." The first three letters of the last name of chief U.N. Delegate Arkady A. Sobolev were capitalized.

Sobolev was host at the affair inside.

Police finally gave the "move on" order, and within 10 minutes the crowd vanished.

Judge Gives Aid To Federal Con

CINCINNATI (AP) — Jesse McWhorter can thank a judge here if he gets to be a "trusty" at Atlant.. federal prison.

Judge J. H. Woeste Wednesday dismissed two old robbery indictments against McWhorter, who complained in a petition that they kept him from "enjoying prison privileges."

McWhorter is serving a 20-year term in Atlanta for the 1954 robbery of a Walnut Hills bank.

Lausche May Avoid Senate Reorganization Maneuvers

COLUMBUS (AP) — Ohio's Sen.-Elect Frank J. Lausche hinted today he might let his fellow Democrats organize the U. S. Senate without him.

In response to a direct question whether he would vote with the Republicans to organize that body, the five-term Democratic governor made this statement:

"I will finish my term as governor of Ohio. If the Senate is not organized by the time I am sworn in, I will then cast my vote, taking into consideration the composition of the Senate, the fact that Eisenhower is President and such other matters as I believe are pertinent."

Lausche let it be known as early as last June that, if elected, he might—under certain circumstances — consider voting with the GOP to organize the Senate if Eisenhower was elected.

His statement today suggested the possibility he might avoid the issue. That suggestion came when he said he plans to finish his term as governor, which ends Jan. 14. Congress convenes Jan. 3.

Lausche's absence from the first 11 days of the new Senate's session could mean the Democrats might go ahead and organize before Lausche becomes a member of it.

Democrats now are assured of at least 48 members in the Senate, including Lausche. Republicans have at least 46. If the GOP wins the undecided contest in Kentucky, it would have 47.

If 48 Democrats and 47 Republicans were to be present when the Senate convenes — with Lausche absent—the Democrats would be in unquestioned control.

Lausche repeatedly has said he would vote on Senate organization in the way he thought best after determining the b a l a n c e of strength and who was elected President.

He recalled difficulties with Republican-controlled Ohio Legislatures and asserted Eisenhower should not bear a similar burden if GOP organization of the U. S. Senate would prevent it.

"I want to repeat what I frequently said in the campaign,

Budapest Radio Says Famine Faces Revolt-Torn Hungary

VIENNA (AP)—Budapest radio announced today famine threatens revolt-torn Hungary. It begged the country in the name of the Russians' puppet government to struggle back to normal.

From Geneva, the International Red Cross committee asked the Soviet government to negotiate with the Hungarian combatants for an immediate truce in the battle of Budapest to permit evacuation of wounded.

Numerous casualties of street fighting at noon Wednesday were reported lying where they fell and cut off from medical aid.

Within the Hungarian capital, ringed by Soviet tanks in formations that resembled siege lines, radio Budapest urged all foodstuff workers to return to their jobs.

So urgent was the situation that the government ordered trucks engaged in transport of provisions to carry big, easily visible signs identifying them as food trucks.

• • •

SOVIET TROOPS will give every possible assistance to keep such food supplies moving, the broadcast said.

The same broadcast indicated a severe shortage of shoes and clothing. It appealed to pawn shops to return all shoes and clothing worth less than 500 forints (about $45 at the official rate) to their owners without payment of premiums and present the pawn slips to the finance ministry.

The Soviet-installed puppet government of Premier Janos Kadar pleaded for resumption of normal life in Hungary, but admitted the rebellion against Russian domination was not fully crushed.

Republican Leads In Kentucky Race

The race, last to be decided in Tuesday's voting, was punctuated with statements implying that each side suspected the other of voting irregularities.

Man Drifts 12 Days at Sea, Says Sharks Came in Droves

SOUTHPORT, N. C. (AP)—"Those sharks were awful. They came in droves. Bumped their heads against the boat, kept whipping about in the water. When my buddy died I laid down in the bottom of the boat. I didn't want the sharks to see me."

Through cracked lips, 20-year-old Douglas Wilson Sessoms of Laurinburg, N. C., thus described his 12 days at sea in a 14-foot homemade boat.

"I don't remember exactly," said the curly-haired young tree surgeon when landed here early today by a Coast Guard boat, "just when (J. Eddie) Boone died but I believe it was on the third day."

Sessoms and the 34-year-old Boone, also of Laurinburg, a foreman in a tree surgery group, had set out from Corn Cake inlet, 30 miles south of Wilmington, N. C., on Oct. 27 on a short fishing excursion. Rough seas washed out their motor and a receding tide pulled them to sea between Ft. Fisher and Bald Head Island, south of Carolina Beach.

"The first day, Boone was awfully nauseated," Sessoms, speckled with skin sores, recalled. The next day he began showing signs of delirium. He was out of his head the third day. I think that's the day he died. I buried him at sea.

"Two ships passed way off but didn't see me.

"When that third ship hove into sight Wednesday, I was too weak to stand up. I'd been without food nine days. I raised up from the bottom of the boat high enough for my head to show, and I waved my arm. They came and got me."

The S.S Hess Petrel picked up the sturdy young man with the blond stubble beard 125 miles east of the South Carolina - Georgia border. At 1:30 a. m., today the Petrel transferred Sessoms to a Coast Guard boat 55 miles east of Southport. He was hospitalized here at 5:30 a. m., at Dosher Memorial Hospital, where Dr. Norman Honstein, after an examination, reported: "He is in very fine condition considering what he has been through."

Cincy Jury Sees Wound Display

CINCINNATI (AP)—Dr. Frank P. Cleveland, coroner's pathologist, used a life-sized dummy Wednesday to show the knife wounds caused by the killer of Mrs. Audrey Evers Pugh.

Cleveland used the mannikin in the first full day of prosecution testimony in the trial of Robert V. Lyons, 43-year-old former city worker charged with first degree murder in her death.

Dr. Cleveland told the jury that there were more than 20 wounds in Mrs. Pugh's body.

Missile Launching Stations Readied

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — The builder of the Air Force's Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile said today locations in southern California and Florida were being made ready for initial launching tests.

Convair Division of General Dynamics Corp. said a facility, where the missile's rocket engines will be given short trials, is expected to go into operation in the immediate future.

The engines and other units will be given further tests at Edwards Air Force Base in the Mojave Desert before the initial launching from Patrick Air Force Base, Fla.

Health Department Pleased with Vote

Dr. Benton V. D. Scott, health commissioner in Fayette County, said Thursday that the department is deeply grateful because of the vote in this county for the health levy of .2 of a mill and also of the tuberculosis levy for Mt. Logan of .25 of a mill.

In a statement Dr. Scott said: "As health commissioner of Fayette County, and as secretary of the Fayette County Board of Health I wish to express the appreciation of the department personnel and members of the Board of Health to the voters of Fayette County for supporting the health levy at the election Tuesday. It is particularly gratifying to learn that this levy was passed by a 69.4 per cent of the vote cast. All of us working for better public health in the county are given renewed inspiration by the splendid support shown in this vote.

"The department personnel here also is gratified by Fayette County's passage of the Tuberculosis district levy in this county by 72 per cent, which means that the county will continue its share in the care of patients at the Mt. Logan TB Sanatorium at Chillicothe."

ed in these varying directions:

Congressional Democrats, assured they could survive a presidential landslide, exhibited new confidence they can pit own legislative program successfully against Eisenhower's.

• • •

THESE DEMOCRATS seemed to have discarded any belief that open opposition to the President might amount to political suicide in future voting.

By constitutional amendment, Eisenhower cannot run again even if he wanted to. That political fact seems likely to have an effect in GOP ranks too. Some Republicans owe their elections to a firm clutch on Eisenhower's coattails. But many others, including most Senate holdovers, did not.

The GOP lawmakers like the Democrats, knew that for practical purposes Eisenhower's influence at the polls ended last Tuesday. They already were speculating on the identity of the man who will head their ticket in 1960.

The choice being so wide, the GOP House and Senate members appeared likely to do at the moment of legislative decision what each thought was best for his own individual political future. They might not follow Eisenhower's lead.

Ex-Solon Enters Innocent Plea

HAMILTON (AP)—Martin A. Lingler Jr., 39, former state representative, pleaded innocent Wednesday at arraignment on two grand larceny indictments.

Lingler, defeated Tuesday in a bid for election as county commissioner, was indicted last month in the theft of a bot and trailer from the Hamilton Boat Club last Aug. 24. Police said he told them he agreed to let a "Howard Johnson" store a boat in a shed at the Lingler Coal Co., where the boat and trailer were found.

America Urges

Union wants the kind of clash which would involve that country and the United States in a global H-bomb war.

But they see grave danger that limited fighting in the Middle East might set in motion forces that could go beyond the control of any government.

Russia, which abstained along with all the rest of the Soviet bloc, from the U. N. vote to go ahead with the police force, has offered to help throw the British, French and Israelis out of Egypt.

There was no fresh indication today as to what Soviet and Red Chinese forces might do. But fears of Russian intervention were heightened by reports that the Egyptians now were feverishly repairing their bomb-battered airfields. Defense Minister Antony Head informed the House of Commons that Britain was aware of this development. He said:

• • •

"OUR REPORTS are that very active work is now taking place at considerable speed to repair the airfields."

The British and French claimed the almost complete destruction of the Egyptian air force in aerial strikes that proceeded the troop landings in Suez. There would be no point in the Egyptians patching runways unless they expected the arrival of fleets of planes friendly to their cause.

Israel reported new attacks by Arab raiders from Jordan along a 30-mile section of frontier today.

Sniper fire crackled at Port Said in the canal zone Wednesday against French and British troops, and one skirmish was fought between an Egyptian patrol and British tankmen.

Since the Israeli blow at Egypt, Jordan is reported to have been reinforced by Syrian, Iraqi and Saudi Arabian troops—an action which Premier David Ben-Gurion at one time said would cause Israel to reserve "freedom of action."

Powerful units of the U. S. Navy, including the big carriers Forrestal and Franklin D. Roosevelt, put out into the Atlantic on readiness precautionary defense measures. U. S. armed services spokesmen said they did not want the United States to be caught flat-footed in another Pearl Harbor.

A spokesman for the Joint Chiefs of Staff said he wanted to put emphasis "on the word defense." He added that "we do not want to be caught flat-footed and at the same time we do not want to take any provocative action which would get us involved."

• • •

U. S. COMMANDERS at home and overseas have been kept apprised of the world situation and given "guidance" in putting their forces in a state of readiness.

Some Navy ships were ordered to cancel a training maneuver and stay at sea off the East Coast. Similarly, the Strategic Air Command has changed or canceled training operations for the bomber fleet which normally would take planes from bases.

In Paris, French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau said today a number of Soviet MIG17 jet fighters have landed in Syria.

Diplomatic sources said the Soviet jets flew to Syria across Turkey the night Premier Bulganin sent messages to Western governments pledging support for Egypt against the French-British landings there.

In Cairo, Egyptian President Nasser has expressed his best wishes "for the glory of the peoples of the Soviet Union, with our people are bound with the strongest ties of friendship and fraternity."

Nasser voice this sentiment in a message of congratulations to Marshal Klementi Voroshilov, the Soviet Union's president, on the 39th anniversary Wednesday of the Bolshevik revolution.

Korean War Bonus Seen Due in July

COLUMBUS (AP) — Ohio will start paying its bonus to Korea veterans next July, State Auditor James A. Rhodes predicted today. The money will come from a $90 million bond issue set up by a constitutional amendment approved Tuesday by Ohio voters.

Total payments are expected to cost $79,990,000. There are about 89,500 Ohio veterans alive who average one year's service in Korea during the conflict, the Legislative Research Commission reported in August 1954.

Another 109,500 Ohioans saw only domestic duty during the conflict, but are eligible for the bonus because they served at some time between June 25, 1950, and July 19, 1953.

Death benefits of $400 each will go to next of kin of about 1,900 battle and non-combat fatalities in the Korean Theater, the commission reported.

State law makes Auditor Rhodes president of the Sinking Fund Commission which must decide what tax rate is necessary to retire the bonds. They mature over a 15-year period, and interest is included.

Rhodes said he will call a meeting next week. Commission members include the governor, secretary of state, treasurer and attorney general, or their representatives.

Berserk Gorilla Killed by Deputy

Deputy Lloyd Simmons shot King Kong in the head after the animal bit and clawed the handler, Alva B. Dexter, 49. Dexter is in a hospital with severe wounds on the face and arms.

The gorilla had escaped from his cage at the Leo Carroll animal show in a manner not yet known. He attacked Dexter as the handler brought his evening meal.

King Kong was valued at $2,500.

Book Too Naughty For Her Minister

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — Col. Barney Oldfield of the Air Defense Command was autographing copies of his book, "Never a Shot in Anger," in a bookshop.

A woman asked him if it would be a suitable present for her minister.

"Well, it's sort of a naughty book in spots," Oldfield said.

Bell System's Ban on Phone Attachment Voided by Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Court of Appeals today struck down as "neither just nor reasonable" the ban by the Bell system against attachment to its telephones of any device "not furnished by the telephone company."

The court said it was an "unwarranted interference with the telephone subscriber's right reasonably to use his telephone in ways which are privately beneficial without being publicly detrimental."

It was a victory for Hush-A Phone Corp., which manufactures a cup-like device which snaps on the telephone equipment. The court said the device makes for privacy in conversation, office quiet and a quiet telephone circuit. Over the years more than 125,000 Hush-A-Phones have gone into service.

The court said Bell system companies have informed both the sellers and users of Hush-A-Phones that the device may not be used under the tariffs on file with the federal communications commission. The commission, in a decision Dec. 21, 1955, upheld legality of the tariffs.

The court sent the case back to the commission with instructions to determine what changes should be made in the tariffs to make them "just, fair and reasonable" and what orders may be required "to prohibit violation of subscribers' rights thereunder."

Judge David L. Bazelon said in the court's unaminous opinion that the phone companies "do not challenge the subscriber's right to seek privacy" adding:

"They only say that he should achieve it by cupping his hand between the transmitter and his mouth and speaking in a low voice into a make-shift muffler. . . .

"To say that a telephone subscriber may produce the result in question by cupping his hand and speaking into it, but may not do so by using a device which leaves his hand free to write or do whatever else he wishes, is neither just nor reasonable."

Angered Drinkers Blamed for Fire

Required to close his tavern during polling hours, Beudikofer decided against reopening Tuesday night. He said he heard a car drive up just before the fire was discovered at 2 a.m.

O'Neill Expects Big Population Boost

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — Governor-elect C. William O'Neill predicts Ohio's population will jump from nine to 11 million people in the next four years.

In his first post-campaign speech here Wednesday night, the campaign-weary but jovial O'Neill said he believed Ohio will replace Illinois as the fourth largest state within the next four years.

He spoke at a dinner session of the Buckeye Eastern National Polled Hereford Show and Sale.

traffic lights. These boxes, about two feet long and a foot square, are to be fastened seven feet up on the poles. They will contain much of the complicated mechanism for controlling the lights.

The controller boxes have not yet arrived, but they are expected soon.

This "monotrol system," manufactured by the Eagle Signal Corp., of Moline, Ill., is the "latest thing in traffic control systems," Parkinson said, adding that it will be the first of its kind in Ohio.

Before deciding on this system, the city manager said, those in eight other cities were investigated.

When completed, it will cost about $24,000. This amount has been appropriated by Council.

Man Drifts 12 Days at Sea, Says Sharks Came in Droves

SOUTHPORT, N. C. (AP)—"Those sharks were awful. They came in droves. Bumped their heads against the boat, kept whipping about in the water. When my buddy died I laid down in the bottom of the boat. I didn't want the sharks to see me."

Through cracked lips, 20-year-old Douglas Wilson Sessoms of Laurinburg, N. C., thus described his 12 days at sea in a 14-foot homemade boat.

"I don't remember exactly," said the curly-haired young tree surgeon when landed here early today by a Coast Guard boat, "just when (J. Eddie) Boone died but I believe it was on the third day."

Sessoms and the 34-year - old Boone, also of Laurinburg, a foreman in a tree surgery group, had set out from Corn Cake inlet, 30 miles south of Wilmington, N. C., on Oct. 27 on a short fishing excursion. Rough seas washed out their motor and a receding tide pulled them to sea between Ft. Fisher and Bald Head Island, south of Carolina Beach.

"The first day, Boone was awfully nauseated," Sessoms, speckled with skin sores, recalled. The next day he began showing signs of delirium. He was out of his head the third day. I think that's the day he died. I buried him at sea.

"Two ships passed way off but didn't see me.

"When that third ship hove into sight Wednesday, I was too weak to stand up. I'd been without food nine days. I raised up from the bottom of the boat high enough for my head to show, and I waved my arm. They came and got me."

The S.S Hess Petrel picked up the sturdy young man with the blond stubble beard 125 miles east of the South Carolina - Georgia border. At 1:30 a. m., today the Petrel transferred Sessoms to a Coast Guard boat 55 miles east of Southport. He was hospitalized here at 5:30 a. m., at Dosher Memorial Hospital, where Dr. Norman Honstein, after an examination, reported: "He is in very fine condition considering what he has been through."

Cincy Jury Sees Wound Display

CINCINNATI (AP)—Dr. Frank P. Cleveland, coroner's pathologist, used a life-sized dummy Wednesday to show the knife wounds caused by the killer of Mrs. Audrey Evers Pugh.

Cleveland used the mannikin in the first full day of prosecution testimony in the trial of Robert V. Lyons, 43-year-old former city worker charged with first degree murder in her death.

Dr. Cleveland told the jury that there were more than 20 wounds in Mrs. Pugh's body.

Earlier, the jury heard Lt. Charles Martin, head of the city police homicide squad, testify that no finger prints of Lyons were found in the Pugh home.

Missile Launching Stations Readied

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — The builder of the Air Force's Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile said today locations in southern California and Florida were being made ready for initial launching tests.

Convair Division of General Dynamics Corp. said a facility, where the missile's rocket engines will be given short trials, is expected to go into operation in the immediate future.

The engines and other units will be given further tests at Edwards Air Force Base in the Mojave Desert before the initial launching from Patrick Air Force Base, Fla.

Health Department Pleased with Vote

Dr. Benton V. D. Scott, health commissioner in Fayette County, said Thursday that the department is deeply grateful because of the vote in this county for the health levy of .2 of a mill and also of the tuberculosis levy for Mt. Logan of .25 of a mill.

In a statement Dr. Scott said:

"As health commissioner of Fayette County, and as secretary of the Fayette County Board of Health I wish to express the appreciation of the department personnel and members of the Board of Health to the voters of Fayette County for supporting the health levy at the election Tuesday. It is particularly gratifying to learn that this levy was passed by a 69.4 per cent of the vote cast. All of us working for better public health in the county are given renewed inspiration by the splendid support shown in this vote.

"The department personnel here also is gratified by Fayette County's passage of the Tuberculosis district levy in this county by 72 per cent, which means that the county will continue its share in the care of patients at the Mt. Logan TB Sanatorium at Chillicothe."

ed in these varying directions:

Congressional Democrats, assured they could survive a presidential landslide, exhibited new confidence they can pit own legislative program successfully against Eisenhower's.

• • •

THESE DEMOCRATS seemed to have discarded any belief that open opposition to the President might amount to political suicide in future voting.

By constitutional amendment, Eisenhower cannot run again even if he wanted to. That political fact seems likely to have an effect in GOP ranks too. Some Republicans owe their elections to a firm clutch on Eisenhower's coattails. But many others, including most Senate holdovers, did not.

The GOP lawmakers like the Democrats, knew that for practical purposes Eisenhower's influence at the polls ended last Tuesday. They already were speculating on the identity of the man who will head their ticket in 1960.

The choice being so wide, the GOP House and Senate members appeared likely to do at the moment of legislative decision what each thought was best for his own individual political future. They might not follow Eisenhower's lead.

Ex-Solon Enters Innocent Plea

HAMILTON (AP)—Martin A. Lingler Jr., 39, former state representative, pleaded innocent Wednesday at arraignment on two grand larceny indictments.

Lingler, defeated Tuesday in a bid for election as county commissioner, was indicted last month in the theft of a bot and trailer from the Hamilton Boat Club last Aug. 24. Police said he told them he agreed to let a "Howard Johnson" store a boat in a shed at the Lingler Coal Co., where the boat and trailer were found.

Union wants the kind of clash which would involve that country and the United States in a global H-bomb war.

But they see grave danger that limited fighting in the Middle East might set in motion forces that could go beyond the control of any government.

Russia, which abstained along with all the rest of the Soviet bloc, from the U. N. vote to go ahead with the police force, has offered to help throw the British, French and Israelis out of Egypt.

There was no fresh indication today as to what Soviet and Red Chinese forces might do. But fears of Russian intervention were heightened by reports that the Egyptians now were feverishly repairing their bomb-battered airfields. Defense Minister Antony Head informed the House of Commons that Britain was aware of this development. He said:

• • •

"OUR REPORTS are that very active work is now taking place at considerable speed to repair the airfields."

The British and French claimed the almost complete destruction of the Egyptian air force in aerial strikes that proceeded the troop landings in Suez. There would be no point in the Egyptians patching runways unless they expected the arrival of fleets of planes friendly to their cause.

Israel reported new attacks by Arab raiders from Jordan along a 30-mile section of frontier today.

Sniper fire crackled at Port Said in the canal zone Wednesday against French and British troops, and one skirmish was fought between an Egyptian patrol and British tankmen.

Since the Israeli blow at Egypt, Jordan is reported to have been reinforced by Syrian, Iraqi and Saudi Arabian troops—an action which Premier David Ben-Gurion at one time said would cause Israel to reserve "freedom of action."

Powerful units of the U. S. Navy, including the big carriers Forrestal and Franklin D. Roosevelt, put out into the Atlantic on readiness everywhere were alerted to take precautionary defense measures. U. S. armed services spokesmen said they did not want the United States to be caught flat-footed in another Pearl Harbor.

A spokesman for the Joint Chiefs of Staff said he wanted to put emphasis "on the word defense." He added that "we do not want to be caught flat-footed and at the same time we do not want to take any provocative action which would get us involved."

• • •

U. S. COMMANDERS at home and overseas have been kept apprised of the world situation and given "guidance" in putting their forces in a state of readiness.

Some Navy ships were ordered to cancel a training maneuver and stay at sea off the East Coast. Similarly, the Strategic Air Command has changed or canceled training operations for the bomber fleet which normally would take planes from bases.

In Paris, French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau said today a number of Soviet MIG17 jet fighters have landed in Syria.

Diplomatic sources said the Soviet jets flew to Syria across Turkey the night Premier Bulganin sent messages to Western governments pledging support for Egypt against the French-British landings there.

In Cairo, Egyptian President Nasser has expressed his best wishes "for the glory of the peoples of the Soviet Union, with our people are bound with the strongest ties of friendship and fraternity."

Nasser voice this sentiment in a message of congratulations to Marshal Klementi Voroshilov, the Soviet Union's president, on the 39th anniversary Wednesday of the Bolshevik revolution.

Korean War Bonus Seen Due in July

COLUMBUS (AP) — Ohio will start paying its bonus to Korea veterans next July, State Auditor James A. Rhodes predicted today. The money will come from a $90 million bond issue set up by a constitutional amendment approved Tuesday by Ohio voters.

Total payments are expected to cost $79,990,000. There are about 89,500 Ohio veterans alive who average one year's service in Korea during the conflict, the Legislative Research Commission reported in August 1954.

Another 109,500 Ohioans saw only domestic duty during the conflict, but are eligible for the bonus because they served at some time between June 25, 1950, and July 19, 1953.

Death benefits of $400 each will go to next of kin of about 1,900 battle and non-combat fatalities in the Korean Theater, the commission reported.

State law makes Auditor Rhodes president of the Sinking Fund Commission which must decide what tax rate is necessary to retire the bonds. They mature over a 15-year period, and interest is included.

Rhodes said he will call a meeting next week. Commission members include the governor, secretary of state, treasurer and attorney general, or their representatives.

Berserk Gorilla Killed by Deputy

Deputy Lloyd Simmons shot King Kong in the head after the animal bit and clawed the handler, Alva B. Dexter, 49. Dexter is in a hospital with severe wounds on the face and arms.

The gorilla had escaped from his cage at the Leo Carroll animal show in a manner not yet known. He attacked Dexter as the handler brought his evening meal.

King Kong was valued at $2,500.

Book Too Naughty For Her Minister

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — Col. Barney Oldfield of the Air Defense Command was autographing copies of his book, "Never a Shot in Anger," in a bookshop.

A woman asked him if it would be a suitable present for her minister.

"Well, it's sort of a naughty book in spots," Oldfield said.

Bell System's Ban on Phone Attachment Voided by Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Court of Appeals today struck down as "neither just nor reasonable" the ban by the Bell system against attachment to its telephones of any device "not furnished by the telephone company."

The court said it was an "unwarranted interference with the telephone subscriber's right reasonably to use his telephone in ways which are privately beneficial without being publicly detrimental."

It was a victory for Hush-A Phone Corp., which manufactures a cup-like device which snaps on the telephone equipment. The court said the device makes for privacy in conversation, office quiet and a quiet telephone circuit. Over the years more than 125,000 Hush-A-Phones have gone into service.

The court said Bell system companies have informed both the sellers and users of Hush-A-Phones that the device may not be used under the tariffs on file with the federal communications commission. The commission, in a decision Dec. 21, 1955, upheld legality of the tariffs.

The court sent the case back to the commission with instructions to determine what changes should be made in the tariffs to make them "just, fair and reasonable" and what orders may be required "to prohibit violation of subscribers' rights thereunder."

Judge David L. Bazelon said in the court's unaminous opinion that the phone companies "do not challenge the subscriber's right to seek privacy," adding:

"They only say that he should achieve it by cupping his hand between the transmitter and his mouth and speaking in a low voice into a make-shift muffler. . . .

"To say that a telephone subscriber may produce the result in question by cupping his hand and speaking into it, but may not do so by using a device which leaves his hand free to write or do whatever else he wishes, is neither just nor reasonable."

Angered Drinkers Blamed for Fire

Beudikofer told sheriff's deputies he believed angered seekers for a drink started the fire.

Required to close his tavern during polling hours, Beudikofer decided against reopening Tuesday night. He said he heard a car drive up just before the fire was discovered at 2 a.m.

O'Neill Expects Big Population Boost

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — Governor-elect C. William O'Neill predicts Ohio's population will jump from nine to 11 million people in the next four years.

In his first post - campaign speech here Wednesday night, the campaign-weary but jovial O'Neill said he believed Ohio will replace Illinois as the fourth largest state within the next four years.

He spoke at a dinner session of the Buckeye Eastern National Polled Hereford Show and Sale.

traffic lights. These boxes, about two feet long and a foot square, are to be fastened seven feet up on the poles. They will contain much of the complicated mechanism for controlling the lights.

The controller boxes have not yet arrived, but they are expected soon.

This "monotrol system," manufactured by the Eagle Signal Corp., of Moline, Ill., is the "latest thing in traffic control systems," Parkinson said, adding that it will be the first of its kind in Ohio.

Before deciding on this system, the city manager said, those in eight other cities were investigated.

When completed, it will cost about $24,000. This amount has been appropriated by Council.

Family Farms Are Still with Us, Regardless

Since Fayette County is considered one of the better agricultural counties in the United States, the people of this county have for many years been deeply concerned with farm problems, the evolution of farming and the long and sometimes frenzied discussion on these subjects.

They are quick to recognize that some of these discussions not only generated more heat than light, but have led to many serious misconceptions and quite a few misrepresentations.

In this connection, for example, there has been the long argument that the family farm is on the way out and, unless drastic steps are taken, may soon be only a memory.

That argument was factually answered in mid - September by Acting Secretary of Agriculture True D. Morse. His statement is based on an analysis of information from the last Census of Agriculture. . and here are some of the facts produced.

The proportion of family farms to the total number of farms in the U. S. has held steady in recent years. There has been no change in the total number of farms operated by families in the last 15 years.

In a late year, family-operated farms comprised about 97 per cent of all our farms, leaving only about three per cent for the large - scale farms. The percentage of farmers who were full or part owners of the land they worked stood at 75 per cent. . .an all - time record high. Farm tenancy, by contrast, was at a record low.

Increasing mechanization allows family farms to operate with less hired labor than in the past. . .and also permits family farms of greater acreage. As Mr. Morse puts it, "authorities generally agree that the family farm will continue to dominate American agriculture. The family farm is not only preserved but strengthened. . . .About 7 out of 10 farmers have no mortgage debts. Farm foreclosures are near record low." And he points to various Department of Agriculture programs designed to further strengthen family farming, including increased research, new authority for credit, increased budgets for conservation work, and the soil bank.

In this connection, some statements made in Secretary of Agriculture Benson' new book are apt indeed. The book, "Farmers at the Crossroads," has been published by the Devin-Adair Company, and goes deeply into the agricultural situation, both historically and currently.

Mr. Benson denies that high farm incomes of the 1940's were due to high price supports. . .instead, he says, they were due to "the insatiable demands of war and wartime inflation." And he characterizes as an even more serious fallacy the claim that high price supports can hold up farm income even though surpluses accumulate. He writes: "In every year but one from 1947 through 1955, farm income declined. . .and in all these years, until mid-1955, high rigid price supports were on the statute books and completely in effect."

Moreover, Secretary Benson demolishes the idea that high supports are of benefit to the family - sized farm. Only 24 per cent of farm income is derived from the six basic commodities which have been supported at 90 per cent of parity. Most of the $9 billion the government has invested in price supports operations is in three of these commodities. . wheat, corn, and cotton. So, Mr. Benson writes, ". . .the diversified, family - sized farms have had precious little help from the old program. Instead, government help has gone mainly to big volume, specialized, low cost producers. . .to the 'big business' of agriculture."

Nothing Safe from Change

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Monologue of a middle-aged man in the street:

Well, the election is over, and if these were normal times the country would be safe for another four years. But today nothing really seems safe from change for even the next four minutes.

The world used to operate on a sensible basis. It would have a big depression every 10 years, and a big war every 20 or 25 years. This gave people time in-between to make love or look up at the stars for comfort.

A man don't mind so much getting an ulcer from earning a living, paying off his mortgage, and keeping his kids in school and out of jail. It's the extra ulcer he gets that bothers him, the one caused by his monotonous mental diet, a diet of crises. You get a warmed-over old crisis for breakfast, a half-baked later crisis for lunch, and a brand new completely raw crisis for dinner. The mind simply can't stomach them all.

If it ain't a crisis over maybe the hydrogen bomb will fall, it's a crisis over maybe the cost of living will go up. Even the weather is a crisis. The climate is getting warmer and in another 10,000 years (just when I finally finish paying off my house) the country may be one vast desert, and what'll that do to property values?

Then there's always the crisis over peace. World peace seems to be pretty much like prosperity in America—it isn't a fixed thing, but is based on the installment plan.

Russia moves tanks into Hungary to preserve freedom and soon the only free Hungarians in the country are those too dead to realize the wonder of it. Then Russia threatens to put the muscle on Britain, France, and Israel in order to preserve peace in Egypt. But Britain, France an Israel don't see the logic of that at all. Why are they already busy fighting for in Egypt? Why, to preserve the peace, of course.

The Egyptians, too, are fighting to preserve peace with an army developed probably for just that purpose. What puzzles me is whether peace can stand much more preserving without winding up embalmed.

Somehow I can't quite get it. How is it possible to avoid war by fighting and preserve the peace by breaking it?

Suez and Israel

By George Sokolsky

The movement of Israel against Egypt must be taken in relationship to the 1888 convention, by which the Suez Canal is supposed to be open to all shippers regardless of the attitude of Egypt toward a nation.

When the 1888 convention was signed, Egypt was not a sovereign state, but was under the suzerainty of Turkey and the treaty was actually negotiated and signed in Constantinople, the Turkish capital. When Egypt became sovereign, her government assumed the responsibilities and the liabilities of the Turkish government in that country.

From that standpoint, the Suez Canal should always have been open to Israel and to the shipping of other nations to and from Israel. This has not been so, with the result that Egypt was able to set a precedent, with the consent of the major powers, a precedent which is today plaguing them because it is being used against them by Nasser and has forced upon the world another war and the probable destruction of the western alliance.

It is another evidence that wrong action taken to appease a wicked and petulant dictator will always have wrong consequences.

Al - Shab, a Cairo newspaper, raised this issue when it made the point:

"These voices have ignored an important fact, that is, that Egypt's denial of passage through the canal to Israel ships has been applied for eight years, in other words, since the establishment of this aggressive state (Israel). Egypt continues to execute this policy in accordance with its prerogatives as the owner of the canal, provided for in the Constantinople convention of 1888.

"Britain, which occupied the canal until recently, would have been able to interfere by force to grant Israeli ships passage, if Britain truly means to assure the rights of Israel or believed that Israel had the right to pass."

The view is correct in many respects. The Suez Canal Co. was managed by the French and the canal itself controlled by the British. It is correct to say that Great Britain, with 80,000 troops on hand, could have kept the canal open for Israeli shipping. The Egyptians are entitled now to question the sincerity of British raising such an issue when the British are no longer in control of the canal, except that Great Britain sought to avoid war and particularly hoped to avoid a clash with the United States which has consistently supported the Arab position.

The issue of authority could then have been decided eight years earlier, before Nasser was in power, before he received arms and planes from Soviet Russia, before he had turned himself into an African Hitler.

When the wrong thing is done to appease a dictator, it is likely to work out that the appeasement will cause trouble sooner or later. That is precisely what has happened. Had the British and the French asserted the authority of the 1888 convention upon the first occasion of its violation, they would today not be faced by the condonement of that violation as a precedent for all countries and all time.

And the United States, which also made no protest against the discrimination against Israeli shipping and which permitted a violation of a treaty, finds itself embarrased by the course of events in Egypt. Nasser has taken every advantage of the embarrassment.

Appeasement usually works out that way. It generally lays the foundation for subsequent trouble. Nasser is one of those tough characters of history who takes advantage of every situation on the theory that that is the only way that a weak and backward nation can survive in the struggle against the large and powerful states.

By seizing the Suez Canal, Nasser gave the Western world the alternative of fighting him or appeasing him. When they failed to fight, they appeased. Now that Israel, the British and the French are fighting they have brought on their heads the condemnation not only of Soviet Russia but of the United States.

Until this happened Nasser had won an outstanding victory against Great Britain, France and the United States. Nasser built his position half on bluster and half on Western appeasement, benefiting as though it were a coup d'etat. He had to be brought down lest he achieve his goal which was to form an Arabic empire as Hitler had formed a Nordic empire.

Pregnancy Troubles Can Be Prevented

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

In most cases, complications during pregnancy can be avoided with good prenatal care, started as soon as two months menstrual periods have been missed.

It's best, however, to be on the safe side to be able to recognize signs which might indicate trouble for the mother-to-be or her unborn baby. A timely call to the doctor at the first indication of such unfavorable symptoms probably can avert any danger to yourself or the baby.

First Symptom

Bleeding from the vagina is generally the first symptom of a miscarriage. This is usually accompanied by abdominal cramps or pain.

If these symptoms appear, call your doctor at once and then go to bed and stay there until he gives you specific instructions.

Strenuous Exercise

Most miscarriages occur during the second or third months. I strongly urge you expectant mothers to avoid any unusual physical stress during these periods. Miscarriages frequently occur after strenuous exercise or work, a long auto ride, or a fall.

But there's one thing I definitely want you to understand. Many miscarriages are caused by the faulty structure of the fetus. Such a miscarriage simply is nature's way of stopping a pregnancy which probably could not be successfully completed anyway.

Persistent headaches, blurring of vision, swelling of hands, face, or legs: scanty urine, and sudden or excessive gain in weight may be symptoms of toxemia or pregnancy and should also be immediately reported to your doctor.

Gain In Weight

Incidentally, you can expect to gain an average of about 20 pounds during the entire course of a normal pregnancy at the rate of about one-half pound a week.

If these early signs of miscarriage or of toxemia are reported to your physician immediately, serious complications can almost always be prevented.

Lake Erie Steamer Sinks in Channel

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP)—The steamer Tampico, owned by Nicholson Steamship Co. of Detroit, struck an underwater obstruction and sank in the Livingstone channel south of Amherstburg, Ont., Tuesday. The entire crew of 30 was saved.

Reports said the ship's steering gear went out of order and the vessel plowed into the obstruction, ripping a hole in her bow. The accident occurred where the Livingstone channel runs into Lake Erie in deep water.

The Tampico is a 56-year-old ship, 246 feet long. She has been used for carrying scrap metal between Detroit and Buffalo.

WASHINGTON (AP) — What the elections proved seems simple enough, although men who make a living analyzing voting habits will come up with plenty of psychological jargon and seeming profundities.

The voters liked President Eisenhower far more than they did Adlai Stevenson, and more than they liked the Republican party. Otherwise they couldn't see much difference between Democrats and Republicans.

The evidence is plain enough: Eisenhower won overwhelmingly but his Republicans were beaten by the Democrats for control of Congress. The Democrats won by only the tiniest margin, capturing just enough of the 531 seats to take charge.

Nevertheless, the voters have been showing a preference for the Democrats as a party. They elected a Republican Congress with Eisenhower in 1952 but in 1954 and again this year gave the Democrats control.

The Democrats and Republicans — as parties — are almost identical. Both stand for moderate extensions of the New Deal and Fair Deal. Beyond that they don't go.

The Republicans, after years of criticizing many of the social measures of Presidents Roosevelt and Truman took them over lock, stock and barrel although they don't like to acknowledge it.

Republican adoption of the means they have caught up with the clock. The New and Fair Deal reforms have become part of the basic fabric of American life.

For their part, the Democrats have moved neither left nor right, as a party. They're right in the middle. The Republicans used to scream the Democrats were socializing the country, but the New and Fair Deal reforms were not radical. The proof is their acceptance by such middle-of-the-road Republicans as Eisenhower.

Neither Democrats nore Republicans now are calling for wide reforms, as the Democrats did in depression days. The reason for that is simple enough too: the country is prosperous and is not expecting or demanding startling change.

Because Democrats and Republicans are both moderate as parties. Both Democrats and Republicans have right and liberal wings, and both have large conservative center groups.

If anyone doubts the similarities between the two parties, all he has to do is read their campaign platforms and analyze the programs proposed by both Eisenhower and Stevenson during the campaign.

This similarity between the parties can be expected to continue until the country undergoes some deep economic change or until the world position deteriorates badly. Then new forces will form within the country, new needs arise.

Wildcat Strike Hits Coldwater Factory

CELINA, Ohio (AP)—A "wildcat" strike, idling some 1,000 employes of the New Idea Division of the Avco Manufacturing Co., entered its second day Wednesday at the company plant in Coldwater, about 10 miles southeast of here.

Company officials termed the walkout a violation of the "no - strike" clause in its contract with United Steelworkers of America.

Avco said it has not received any demands from the strikers nor has it heard of any complaints from them.

Union officials called the strike "unauthorized" and said they have appealed to the union's international headquarters for advice.

A spokesman for the strikers said workers walked out of the Coldwater plant at 3 p. m. Tuesday in protest over a production rate time study initiated by the company.

British Leader Says Red Stab Is Abominable

CINCINNATI (AP)—Herbert Morrison, a British government leader, said here Wednesday that Russia's action in Hungary was "abominable."

Asked by reporters for comment on the Anglo - French invasion in Egypt, he said:

"Sorry, I can't talk on that."

"Too domned complicated," Morrison said.

He was in Cincinnati to address the Ohio Valley Improvement Assn. Wednesday night.

Morrison did say he thought that U.S. formation of an international police force was a "helpful development."

Known as a foremost proponent of solving problems through the United Nations, the former British deputy prime minister under the Atlee government expressed concern over a threatened Moslem holy war against the British and French.

"Well, by Jove, we'll have to do some more talking," he told a reporter.

The topic of his speech was "Battle for Peace." Ahead of it, in answer to a question, Morrison said:

"I'll speak on the whole blooming universe."

Family Farms Are Still with Us, Regardless

Since Fayette County is considered one of the better agricultural counties in the United States, the people of this county have for many years been deeply concerned with farm problems, the evolution of farming and the long and sometimes frenzied discussion on these subjects.

They are quick to recognize that some of these discussions not only generated more heat than light, but have led to many serious misconceptions and quite a few misrepresentations.

In this connection, for example, there has been the long argument that the family farm is on the way out and, unless drastic steps are taken, may soon be only a memory.

That argument was factually answered in mid - September by Acting Secretary of Agriculture True D. Morse. His statement is based on an analysis of information from the last Census of Agriculture. . and here are some of the facts produced.

The proportion of family farms to the total number of farms in the U. S. has held steady in recent years. There has been no change in the total number of farms operated by families in the last 15 years.

In a late year, family-operated farms comprised about 97 per cent of all our farms, leaving only about three per cent for the large - scale farms. The percentage of farmers who were full or part owners of the land they worked stood at 75 per cent. . .an all - time record high. Farm tenancy, by contrast, was at a record low.

Increasing mechanization allows family farms to operate with less hired labor than in the past. . .and also permits family farms of greater acreage. As Mr. Morse puts it, "authorities generally agree that the family farm will continue to dominate American agriculture. The family farm is not only preserved but strengthened. . . .About 7 out of 10 farmers have no mortgage debts. Farm foreclosures are near record low." And he points to various Department of Agriculture programs designed to further strengthen family farming, including increased research new authority for credit, increased budgets for conservation work, and the soil bank.

In this connection, some statements made in Secretary of Agriculture Benson' new book are apt indeed. The book, "Farmers at the Crossroads," has been published by the Devin-Adair Company, and goes deeply into the agricultural situation, both historically and currently.

Mr. Benson denies that high farm incomes of the 1940's were due to high price supports. . .instead, he says, they were due to "the insatiable demands of war and wartime inflation." And he characterizes as an even more serious fallacy the claim that high price supports can hold up farm income even though surpluses accumulate. He writes: "In every year but one from 1947 through 1955, farm income declined. . .and in all these years, until mid-1955, high rigid price supports were on the statute books and completely in effect."

Moreover, Secretary Benson demolishes the idea that high supports are of benefit to the family - sized farm. Only 24 per cent of farm income is derived from the six basic commodities which have been supported at 90 per cent of parity. Most of the $9 billion the government has invested in price supports operations is in three of these commodities. .wheat, corn, and cotton. So, Mr. Benson writes, ". . .the diversified, family - sized farms have had precious little help from the old program. Instead, government help has gone mainly to big volume, specialized, low cost producers. . .to the 'big business' of agriculture."

Nothing Safe from Change

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Monologue of a middle-aged man in the street:

Well, the election is over, and if these were normal times the country would be safe for another four years. But today nothing really seems safe from change for even the next four minutes.

The world used to operate on a sensible basis. It would have a big depression every 10 years, and a big war every 20 or 25 years. This gave people time inbetween to make love or look up at the stars for comfort.

A man don't mind so much getting an ulcer from earning a living, paying off his mortgage, and keeping his kids in school and out of jail. It's the extra ulcer he gets that bothers him, the one caused by his monotonous mental diet, a diet of crises. You get a warmed-over old crisis for breakfast, a half-baked later crisis for lunch, and a brand new completely raw crisis for dinner. The mind simply can't stomach them all.

If it ain't a crisis over maybe the hydrogen bomb will fall, it's a crisis over maybe the cost of living will go up. Even the weather is a crisis. The climate is getting warmer and in another 10,000 years (just when I finally finish paying off my house) the country may be one vast desert, and what'll that do to property values?

Then there's always the crisis over peace. World peace seems to be pretty much like prosperity in America—it isn't a fixed thing, but is based on the installment plan.

Russia moves tanks into Hungary to preserve freedom and soon the only free Hungarians in the country are those too dead to realize the wonder of it. Then Russia threatens to put the muscle on Britain, France, and Israel in order to preserve peace in Egypt. But Britain, France an Israel don't see the logic of that at all. Why are they already busy fighting for in Egypt? Why, to preserve the peace, of course.

The Egyptians, too, are fighting to preserve peace with an army developed probably for just that purpose. What puzzles me is whether peace can stand much more preserving without winding up embalmed.

Somehow I can't quite get it. How is it possible to avoid war by fighting and preserve the peace by breaking it?

Suez and Israel

By George Sokolsky

The movement of Israel against Egypt must be taken in relationship to the 1888 convention, by which the Suez Canal is supposed to be open to all shippers regardless of the attitude of Egypt toward a nation.

When the 1888 convention was signed, Egypt was not a sovereign state, but was under the suzerainty of Turkey and the treaty was actually negotiated and signed in Constantinople, the Turkish capital. When Egypt became sovereign, her government assumed the responsibilities and the liabilities of the Turkish government in that country.

From that standpoint, the Suez Canal should always have been open to Israel and to the shipping of other nations to and from Israel. This has not been so, with the result that Egypt was able to set a precedent, with the consent of the major powers, a precedent which is today plaguing them because it is being used against them by Nasser and has forced upon the world another war and the probable destruction of the western alliance.

It is another evidence that wrong action taken to appease a wicked and petulant dictator will always have wrong consequences.

Al - Shab, a Cairo newspaper, raised this issue when it made the point:

"These voices have ignored an important fact, that is, that Egypt's denial of passage through the canal to Israel ships has been applied for eight years, in other words, since the establishment of this aggressive state (Israel). Egypt continues to execute this policy in accordance with its prerogatives as the owner of the canal, provided for in the Constantinople convention of 1888.

"Britain, which occupied the canal until recently, would have been able to interfere by force to grant Israeli ships passage, if Britain truly means to assure the rights of Israel or believed that Israel had the right to pass."

The view is correct in many respects. The Suez Canal Co. was managed by the French and the canal itself controlled by the British. It is correct to say that Great Britain, with 80,000 troops on hand, could have kept the canal open for Israeli shipping. The Egyptians are entitled now to question the sincerity of British raising such an issue when the British are no longer in control of the canal, except that Great Britain sought to avoid war and particularly hoped to avoid a clash with the United States which has consistently supported the Arab position.

The issue of authority could then have been decided eight years earlier, before Nasser was in power, before he received arms and planes from Soviet Russia, before he had turned himself into an African Hitler.

When the wrong thing is done to appease a dictator, it is likely to work out that the appeasement will cause trouble sooner or later. That is precisely what has happened. Had the British and the French asserted the authority of the 1888 convention upon the first occasion of its violation, they would today not be faced by the condonement of that violation as a precedent for all countries and all time.

And the United States, which also made no protest against the discrimination against Israeli shipping and which permitted a violation of a treaty, finds itself embarrased by the course of events in Egypt. Nasser has taken every advantage of the embarrassment.

Everest's Conqueror Ready For Even Greater Adventures

By ARTHUR SCHOLES
(Central Press Correspondent)

AUCKLAND, New Zealand—Sir Edmund Hilliary, conqueror of Mt. Everest, is about to enter on an even bigger adventure. He will leave Dunedin on the south island on his way to the Antarctic in December.

Sir Edmund will head a 23-man New Zealand scientific team which will participate in International Geophysical Year assignments, and also in the attempt of the British commonwealth expedition to cross Antarctica for the first time.

Three New Zealand observers accompanied the U. S. Deep-freeze expedition to the Antarctic in December last year. They selected a site for the New Zealand base camp in McMurdo Sound in the Ross Sea.

The New Zealanders have called their camp, Scott Base, in honor of the famed British explorer, Capt. Robert Scott, who perished on his way back from the South Pole in 1912.

The Commonwealth Transantarctic expedition will attempt the crossing from the Weddel Sea, 2,000 miles to the Ross Sea, during the Antarctic summer of 1957-1958 (November to March).

* * *

THE ADVANCE party from London established a base on the icy coastline of the Weddell Sea in January, this year. The camp there is called Shackleton Base in memory of Sir Ernest Shackleton who attempted the first crossing of the Antarctic continent in 1915-1916.

Sir Ernest Shackleton's ship, Endeavor, was crushed in the ice, and after 18 months of hair-raising adventure, the survivors managed to reach the safety of South Georgia Island.

The Commonwealth expedition under the leadership of Sir Vivian Fuchs will leave Shackleton Base in December, 1957, to attempt the crossing.

The expedition will be met on the polar plateau by Sir Edmund and his team of New Zealanders, who will have prepared depots and supply dumps for the remainder of the route to Scott Base on the Ross sea side.

* * *

WHEN SIR Edmund sails from New Zealand for the Ross Sea at the end of this year, he will be aboard a New Zealand exploration ship also named the Endeavor.

The cost of the Commonwealth Transantarctic expedition will be about $1.5 million. The expenses are being borne by the United Kingdom, Australian, New Zealand and South African governments.

The crossing party will have both land and air transport. Four men of the royal air force with two Auster aircraft specially equipped with skis and floats, accompanied the advance party. They will accompany the main party next year.

Four United States - produced heavy - tracked vehicles, known as "Sno - cats" will be used for the cold continental crossing. United Kingdom war office vehicles, known as "Weasels," are also being taken. A modern type if ice-creaking ship, the Magga Dan, is now being built in Copenhagen, Denmark, and will be chartered by the expedition for two years.

Sir Edmund and his team have just completed rigorous pre-expedition training in the icefields and glaciers of the Southern Alps of New Zealand.

* * *

HERE, 7,000 FEET up, in a world of glaciers, and snowcapped mountains, Sir Edmund 10 years ago learned to climb mountains as tough as any in the world—except, the Himalayas.

This time, the pre-expedition training, including dog sled journeys, air supply dropping, navigation, ski-touring and ice craft, will prove invaluable in the Antarctic. The Scott Base is 300 miles as the skua gull flies — from the South Pole.

Among the party crossing over from the Weddel Sea with Fuchs will be New Zealander, George Lowe, who accompanied Hillary to within the last few hundred feet of the world's highest mountain. Hillary and Lowe will meet again on the polar plateau, 10,000 feet up, in one of the most dramatic reunions of the scientific age.

Together, with the crossing party, they will return along the string of supply depots previously established between Scott Base and the Pole. The New Zealanders will return to their homeland in March 1958.

You know all that talk you've been hearing about the 1957 new car models being really new?

We mean these 1957 Buicks are new in the precise and literal sense. We mean new from the ground up, and from gleaming grille to sassy taillights.

We mean new lowness, new styling, new bodies, new windshields, new controls, new safety-padded instrument panels, new safety steering wheels, new seating, new fabrics, new colors.

We mean new front end, new rear end, new frame, new braking, new steering, new handling, new riding, new roadability—a whole new chassis of greater solidity and safety.

We mean V8 engines new from the crankshaft up—engines that deliver an all-time high in horsepower and compression from their 364-cubic-inch displacement.

And we mean, most of all, an advanced new Variable Pitch Dynaflow—so instant in the starting range—so utterly smooth and so totally full-range in "Drive"—that your need for "Low" is practically eliminated.*

So come take in these low-silhouette, these boldly beautiful, these instantly obedient Buicks for 1957.

Then you'll see why you can't blame us for being so fired up about it all—and how catching this excitement can be.

Daughters 1812 Plan Meeting

Mrs. Frank E. Michael will extend the hospitality of her home to members of the newly organized Major Samuel Myers Chapter of the National Society of the United States Daughters of 1812, on Monday, Nov. 12 at 2 p. m.

The president, Mrs. Loren D. Hynes, will preside over the meeting and is urging all chapter chairmen to be present for this important meeting.

Mrs. Millard H. Weidinger, treasurer of the Ohio State Society, will give an informative talk on the functions of the various committees as well as how chapter and state funds are spent on the various projects.

The chapter treasurer, Mrs. Ervin P. Miller, will present a proposed budget for approval of the chapter and members are requested to bring recent magazines to be taken to the Chillicothe Veteran's Hospital by the re-habilitation chairman, Mrs. Dean Powell.

Assisting Mrs. Michael as hostesses will be: Mrs. Jane McCoy Gardner, Mrs. Vere C. Foster, Mrs. V. F. Crawford, Mrs. Ervin P. Miller, Mrs. Harry M. Rankin, Miss Catherine Gossard and Mrs. W. A. Melvin.

Rev. Neal Hand Is Speaker at CCL Meeting

Mrs. William Fletcher, president of Alpha Chapter of Child Conservation League presided over the regular meeting held Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. William Clarke.

The usual reports and those of all standing committees were heard and approved and also a report of the 36th annual Ohio C.C.L. Convention held in Toledo in October was given by Mrs. William Fletcher and vice president, Mrs. Richard Waters who attended as delegates.

The members made plans to contribute a Thanksgiving basket to a worthy family and Mrs. William Lawyer chairman, Mrs. Margaret Helfrich, Mrs. John Williams and Mrs. Harry Naylor who were appointed as the committee for this project.

Rev. Neil Hand, guest speaker, was presented by Mrs. Fulton Alkire, and gave a most intellectual and informative as well as inspiring talk on "Spiritual Development of the Child."

Rev. Hand pointed out that most parents fail to realize the tremendous power of example and no example is more important than parental influence in the spiritual life of the child.

He also emphasized that more time should be given to religious training in the home with a specific time set aside and following his talk, Rev. Hand led in panel discussion during which he answered the many questions of the most interested members.

The meeting was adjourned and a social followed during which Mrs. Clarke and her assisting hostesses Mrs. George Naylor, Mrs. Kenneth Warner and Mrs. William Fletcher, served dainty refreshments.

MYF Group Holds Meeting

The meeting was opened with a reading from the M. Y. F. Quarterly and devotions were led by Nina Roehm, and following the usual reports it was decided to hold meetings on Sunday afternoons during the winter months from 2 to 4:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Hughes Is Hostess To Club Members

Mrs. Charles E. Hughes was hostess to nine members of the Bloomingburg Kensington Club, Wednesday afternoon for the regular November meeting.

Mrs. Don Thornton, president, conducted the business session and read a poem "Give Thanks To The Lord".

The president was in charge of the devotions which included two readings "What We Give" and "Thanksgiving" and also led in the praying of the Lord's Prayer.

The usual reports were read and accepted and a contribution was made to the Red Cross.

Roll call was responded to by members who responded with short readings as follows: "Do You Remember The Old Schoolhouse" by Mrs. W. P. Noble; "Wistful Thinking" by Mrs. Forrest Hains; "When I Was Your Age in Life" by Mrs. Ogan Riley and "The Traveller" by Mrs. Vere C. Foster.

The meeting was closed with the club benediction and during the social hour Mrs. Hughes conducted an interesting contest, with the prize going to Mrs. Don Thornton.

Later Mrs. Hughes served hot chicken sandwiches and potato chips and the members lingered for informal visiting.

Members present were Mrs. Jean Brown, Mrs. Vere C. Foster, Mrs. Anna Groff, Miss Catherine Gossard, Mrs. Forrest Hains, Mrs. W. P. Noble, Mrs. Ogan Riley and Mrs. Don Thornton.

Chilli Supper Precedes Meeting Of Class

An "Election" chilli supper, preceded the regular class meeting of the Loyal Berean Class of The South Side Church of Christ on Tuesday evening.

Sixty - five members and guests assembled at the church for the bountiful meal cooked and served by a capable committee.

The tables were decorated with colors of yellow and white predominating and centered with yellow pumpkins and Mr. Frank Coulter gave the opeping invocation preceding the serving of the food.

The president, Mr. Howard Brooks, presided over the business session. The treasurer reported a gratifying amount in that fund and due to the absence of the secretary no report was given from that office.

It was decided to pay the class quota on the auditorium fan and a report was given on the progress of the loud speaker for the auditorium which is also a class project.

Due to the absence of the devotional leader, Mr. Brooks also served in that capacity and brought a message on "Fellowship", using Scripture from the First Chapter of Corinthians, and Mr. Frank E. Creamer gave the closing prayer.

The committee responsible for the pleasant evening were: Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Speakman, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Beedy, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Foy and Mr. and Mrs. John Wright.

A committee was appointed to plan a combined meeting for December, and details will be announced later.

Combined Circles Of WSCS Hold Regular Meeting

The combined Circles of the Jeffersonville WSCS met at the Jeffersonville Methodist Church Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Harold Zimmerman, president, called the meeting to order and following the singing of a hymn, the president offered prayer.

The usual report were heard and approved and thirty-one members responded to roll call.

Special reports made by the members were 31 calls made during the past month.

Mrs. O. L. Wiseman, advisor for the M.Y.F., gave a splendid report of the youth meetings during the past month, and announced that this organization would be in charge of the bazaar at the annual turkey supper at the church, November 17.

The Thanksgiving Market which is also an annual event, was announced for November 21 at the Jeffersonville Auto Company, beginning at 1 p. m. and the Thanksgiving evening service at the church is being planned with a social following.

Mrs. Ralph N. Agle was in charge of the combined devotions and program using as her subject "United Nations," which opened with Scripture reading by Mrs. Roy Young, who also led in prayer, a reading on the "United Nations" by Mrs. Agle, entitled "Patriotic Americans," and "The Use of Force."

The service was held around a worship table prepared by Mrs. Wiseman in the absence of Mrs. Charles Seibert and the theme carried out was "A Week of Prayer and Self Denial."

The meeting was closed with the singing of a hymn and refreshments were served by members of the Virginia Circle, with Mrs. Leora Booco, leader, from a table centered with a beautiful floral arrangement designed by Mrs. Ray Shoemaker and Mrs. Zimmerman served punch, from a bowl which had been donated to the church by Mrs. Zimmerman and Mrs. S. Max Thomas.

Mrs. Vollette Entertains Circle Members

Members of Circle 4 of the Woman's Association of First Presbyterian Church assembled at the home of Mrs. Edward Vollette, Wednesday afternoon for the regular meeting.

Preceding the meeting a tempting dessert course was served by Mrs. Vollette and her asisting hostesses. Mrs. Richard Wood, Mrs. James Yates, Mrs. Peter Smeltzer and Mrs. Robert H. Willis.

Mrs. Charles Hire, leader, opened the meeting with prayer and the Bible Study conducted by Mrs. Smeltzer was taken from the Book of Ephesians.

Mrs. Ed Moser was program leader, and used as her subject "Together In Thailand" for discussion with members participating in a question and answer period.

The business session included the usual reports and Mrs. Gene Sagar reported on sale of candy which is a current project of the circle.

The meeting closed with the repeating of the Great Doxology and during a period of visiting a discussion was held on the "Smorgasbord" to be held at the church on Nov. 14 in which all circles will participate.

Mrs. Wilson Presides at WSCS Meeting

The November meeting of the Madison Mills W.S.C.S. was held Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Wilbur Allemang near Orient, and the meeting was preceded by a delicious covered dish luncheon.

Mrs. Homer Wilson, president, conducted the meeting during the afternoon and opened with the reading of the poem "We Thank Thee, Lord".

Mrs. Herbert Ricketts led in the devotions which included the singing of a hymn, a talk on the subject "The U. N. A Good Trustee", Scripture reading by the leader and closed with prayer.

Mrs. Walter Butcher was program leader, which also opened with the singing of a hymn, a reading on "The United Nations" by Mrs. Butcher, and Mrs. Frank Barrett read "Work of Trusteeship Councils"; Mrs. Damon Merritt also read "The Petitioner's Table", and Mrs. Harold King read "Herman", and Mrs. Glenn Hidy read "The Untold Story".

The usual reports were heard and seventeen members responded to roll call with a Bible quotation.

Tea towels and children's books brought by the members were on display and will be sent to Alaska and to a mission in Georgia.

Plans were made for a Bible study course, and the first meeting will begin January 15 at the Madison Mills Church, with Mrs. Herbert Ricketts in charge.

Mrs. A. E. Butcher was in charge of the worship service for the Week of Prayer and Self Denial during which contributions were made at the close of the service.

Mrs. Lawrence Wood assisted Mrs. Allemang in the hospitality.

New Members Are Welcomed by Blue Bird Group

The meeting of the Daisy Blue Birds was held at Cherry Hill School with the leaders, Mrs. Floyd West and Mrs. Robert Goldsberry present to supervise the meeting with seventeen members present.

Mrs. West conducted the meeting during which reports were given on the annual candy sale and Carol McCoy was appointed to be in charge of the scrapbook.

Five new members, Judy Everhart, Kerrilyn Hopewell, Alice Malone, Patty Penwell and Susan Willis were welcomed into the group.

Games were enjoyed and later Judy Campbell served light refreshments.

As a rule, you need to add a quarter teaspoon of salt to a medium white sauce made with a cup of milk.

Larry Hurtt Is Young Host

The Young Peoples Class of First Baptist Church held their regular class meeting Tuesday evening at the home of Larry Hurtt with their teacher, Mrs. H. B. Twining, also present.

The business meeting was called to order by the president, Judy Cahall and Peg Bacon was appointed to serve as secretary for the evening in the absence of the regular secretary.

Th menu for the game dinner in December was discussed and decided upon. The contest now going on in the class to increase membership and stimulate interest, has produced such overwhelming results, that the class has outgrown their present classroom. They decided to ease their efforts and hold the present enrollment and attendance, looking forward with hope for a more adequate place to meet in the near future.

Television and the election news absorbed the time and attention for entertainment.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hurtt graciously invited Larry's guests into their bright and spacious kitchen to serve a tempting lunch and while leasurely sitting around the tables, each revealed their most embarressing moment.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Sandra Mickle Nov. 20th.

CCL Members Meet With Mrs. Woodmansee

The November meeting of Gamma Chapter Child Conservation League was held Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Edmond Woodmansee with twenty-one members present.

Mrs. Jack White, president, presided over th ebrief business session during which plans were made for the annual Christmas party to be held at the home of Mrs. Robert Parish, December 5.

Mrs. Jack Flax, program leader, introduced Mrs. John Trace who described the three years she resided with her family on the Island of Samoa and demonstrated her interesting talk with pictures taken during their residence there, which was most interesting.

One new member, Mrs. Fred Domenico, was introduced and the meeting was adjourned.

During the social hour Mrs. Woodmansee was assisted by Mrs. Rollo Marchant and Mrs. Jack White in the serving of tempting refreshments.

Daughters 1812 Plan Meeting

Mrs. Frank E. Michael will extend the hospitality of her home to members of the newly organized Major Samuel Myers Chapter of the National Society of the United States Daughters of 1812, on Monday, Nov. 12 at 2 p. m.

The president, Mrs. Loren D. Hynes, will preside over the meeting and is urging all chapter chairmen to be present for this important meeting.

Mrs. Millard H. Weidinger, treasurer of the Ohio State Society, will give an informative talk on the functions of the various committees as well as how chapter and state funds are spent on the various projects.

The chapter treasurer, Mrs. Ervin P. Miller, will present a proposed budget for approval of the chapter and members are requested to bring recent magazines to be taken to the Chillicothe Veteran's Hospital by the re-habilitation chairman, Mrs. Dean Powell.

Assisting Mrs. Michael as hostesses will be: Mrs. Jane McCoy Gardner, Mrs. Vere C. Foster, Mrs. V. F. Crawford, Mrs. Ervin P. Miller, Mrs. Harry M. Rankin, Miss Catherine Gossard and Mrs. W. A. Melvin.

Rev. Neal Hand Is Speaker at CCL Meeting

Mrs. William Fletcher, president of Alpha Chapter of Child Conservation League presided over the regular meeting held Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. William Clarke.

The usual reports and those of all standing committees were heard and approved and also a report of the 36th annual Ohio C.C.L. Convention held in Toledo in October was given by Mrs. William Fletcher and vice president, Mrs. Richard Waters who attended as delegates.

The members made plans to contribute a Thanksgiving basket to a worthy family and Mrs. William Lawyer chairman, Mrs. Margaret Helfrich, Mrs. John Williams and Mrs. Harry Naylor who were appointed as the committee for this project.

Rev. Neil Hand, guest speaker, was presented by Mrs. Fulton Alkire, and gave a most intellectual and informative as well as inspiring talk on "Spiritual Development of the Child."

Rev. Hand pointed out that most parents fail to realize the tremendous power of example and no example is more important than parental influence in the spiritual life of the child.

He also emphasized that more time should be given to religious training in the home with a specific time set aside and following his talk, Rev. Hand led in panel discussion during which he answered the many questions of the most interested members.

The meeting was adjourned and a social followed during which Mrs. Clarke and her assisting hostesses Mrs. George Naylor, Mrs. Kenneth Warner and Mrs. William Fletcher, served dainty refreshments.

MYF Group Holds Meeting

The meeting was opened with a reading from the M. Y. F. Quarterly and devotions were led by Nina Roehm, and following the usual reports it was decided to hold meetings on Sunday afternoons during the winter months from 2 to 4:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Hughes Is Hostess To Club Members

Mrs. Charles E. Hughes was hostess to nine members of the Bloomingburg Kensington Club, Wednesday afternoon for the regular November meeting.

Mrs. Don Thornton, president, conducted the business session and read a poem "Give Thanks To The Lord".

The president was in charge of the devotions which included two readings "What We Give" and "Thanksgiving" and also led in the praying of the Lord's Prayer.

The usual reports were read and accepted and a contribution was made to the Red Cross.

Roll call was responded to by members who responded with short readings as follows: "Do You Remember The Old Schoolhouse" by Mrs. W. P. Noble; "Wistful Thinking" by Mrs. Forrest Hains; "When I Was Your Age in Life" by Mrs. Ogan Riley and "The Traveller" by Mrs. Vere C. Foster.

The meeting was closed with the club benediction and during the social hour Mrs. Hughes conducted an interesting contest, with the prize going to Mrs. Don Thornton.

Later Mrs. Hughes served hot chicken sandwiches and potato chips and the members lingered for informal visiting.

Members present were Mrs. Jean Brown, Mrs. Vere C. Foster, Mrs. Anna Groff, Miss Catherine Gossard, Mrs. Forrest Hains, Mrs. W. P. Noble, Mrs. Ogan Riley and Mrs. Don Thornton.

Chilli Supper Precedes Meeting Of Class

An "Election" chilli supper, preceded the regular class meeting of the Loyal Berean Class of The South Side Church of Christ on Tuesday evening.

Sixty - five members and guests assembled at the church for the bountiful meal cooked and served by a capable committee.

The tables were decorated with colors of yellow and white predominating and centered with yellow pumpkins and Mr. Frank Coulter gave the opening invocation preceding the serving of the food.

The president, Mr. Howard Brooks, presided over the business session. The treasurer reported a gratifying amount in that fund and due to the absence of the secretary no report was given from that office.

It was decided to pay the class quota on the auditorium fan and a report was given on the progress of the loud speaker for the auditorium which is also a class project.

Due to the absence of the devotional leader, Mr. Brooks also served in that capacity and brought a message on "Fellowship", using Scripture from the First Chapter of Corinthians, and Mr. Frank E. Creamer gave the closing prayer.

The committee responsible for the pleasant evening were: Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Speakman, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Beedy, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Foy and Mr. and Mrs. John Wright.

A committee was appointed to plan a combined meeting for December, and details will be announced later.

Combined Circles Of WSCS Hold Regular Meeting

The combined Circles of the Jeffersonville WSCS met at the Jeffersonville Methodist Church Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Harold Zimmerman, president, called the meeting to order and following the singing of a hymn, the president offered prayer.

The usual report were heard and approved and thirty-one members responded to roll call.

Special reports made by the members were 31 calls made during the past month.

Mrs. O. L. Wiseman, advisor for the M.Y.F., gave a splendid report of the youth meetings during the past month, and announced that this organization would be in charge of the bazaar at the annual turkey supper at the church, November 17.

The Thanksgiving Market which is also an annual event, was announced for November 21 at the Jeffersonville Auto Company, beginning at 1 p. m. and the Thanksgiving evening service at the church is being planned with a social following.

Mrs. Ralph N. Agle was in charge of the combined devotions and program using as her subject "United Nations," which opened with Scripture reading by Mrs. Roy Young, who also led in prayer, a reading on the "United Nations" by Mrs. Agle, entitled "Patriotic Americans," and "The Use of Force."

The service was held around a worship table prepared by Mrs. Wiseman in the absence of Mrs. Charles Seibert and the theme carried out was "A Week of Prayer and Self Denial."

The meeting was closed with the singing of a hymn and refreshments were served by members of the Virginia Circle, with Mrs. Leora Booco, leader, from a table centered with a beautiful floral arrangement designed by Mrs. Ray Shoemaker and Mrs. Zimmerman served punch, from a bowl which had been donated to the church by Mrs. Zimmerman and Mrs. S. Max Thomas.

Mrs. Vollette Entertains Circle Members

Members of Circle 4 of the Woman's Association of First Presbyterian Church assembled at the home of Mrs. Edward Vollette, Wednesday afternoon for the regular meeting.

Preceding the meeting a tempting dessert course was served by Mrs. Vollette and her asisting hostesses. Mrs. Richard Wood, Mrs. James Yates, Mrs. Peter Smeltzer and Mrs. Robert H. Willis.

Mrs. Charles Hire, leader, opened the meeting with prayer and the Bible Study conducted by Mrs. Smeltzer was taken from the Book of Ephesians.

Mrs. Ed Moser was program leader, and used as her subject "Together In Thailand" for discussion with members participating in a question and answer period.

The business session included the usual reports and Mrs. Gene Sagar reported on sale of candy which is a current project of the circle.

The meeting closed with the repeating of the Great Doxology and during a period of visiting a discussion was held on the "Smorgasbord" to be held at the church on Nov. 14 in which all circles will participate.

Jamestown Youth, Heading Home from Israel, Describes Experiences in Letter to Parents

He left Haifa Oct. 23 just before violence broke out anew in the war - torn Middle East and is now preparing to sail from Cherbourg, France, Thursday on the Queen Mary. On his way to Cherbourg, he took time to visit several cities in Italy.

Pickering, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Pickering, expects to dock in New York Nov. 13 and four days later fly from Washington, D. C., to Columbus where he will be met by his family. His mother is the former Miss Bonnie Lynn Sollars.

* * *

PICKERING, who has been in Israel under the International Farm Youth Exchange program, tells of some of his experiences in the following letter to his parents.

"Shalom, meh eretz Israel." (Shalom, from the land of Israel) That is the greeting from everyone here to you at home. "Shalom" is the word heard most frequently wherever one goes in Israel. One says "shalom" when he greets another and also when he wants to say goodbye. But shalom has a deeper meaning when it is translated literally.

Shalom means "peace." This is the mission of the I.F.Y.E. (International Farm Youth Exchange) program by which I am in Israel: "peace through better world understanding."

During the past three months I have lived on the five kinds of farm settlements found in Israel. One might say I am "learning another's way of life by living it."

My first five weeks were spent in a kibbutz, collective farm, near Haifa. It was quite a unique experience for me since I had never seen a collective farm before. Every phase of life is worked out together. There is a common dining room, laundry, sewing room, and separated shower. The children live in houses away from their parents from the time they are born and are cared for by nurses (some of the women of the kibbutz). This arrangement possibly sounds heartless but I have found the children have a deep love for their parents, are happy and get the best of care. They are with their parents each day from 5 to 8 p. m. and all day on Shabbat (Saturday, the Jewish sabbath).

* * *

EACH PART of the work is organized and carried out together. There is an appointed foreman to manage the cattle, one to manage the grapes, one for the sewing room, and so forth. Each day the unassigned laborers are given work where they are needed.

In the kibbutz each member may use any of the facilities available and everyone shares equally in everything. The only money the members are given is a small allowance for spending money each month. When a member leaves the kibbutz he leaves everything except his personal belongings and a small allowance.

Following my visit in the kibbutz I spent three weeks each in a moshav, a moshav shitofee, and a moshava. These settlements range in their organization from the kibbutz type of life to individually owned farms managed in much the same way as in the United States.

In the moshav each member family has its own house and plot of land. However, it is under the control of the moshav laws and must market its produce through the settlement cooperative. I found that the individual initiative displayed here was more productive than in the kibbutz though they had the inefficiency of a small farm operation.

The moshav shitofee I lived in is a cross between a kibbutz and a moshav. Each family has its own home but the members farm their land collectively. They seem to suffer from a lack of personal initiative in their work like in the kibbutz but enjoy a closer family life.

* * *

THE TYPE of settlement most closely resembling the individual farms in the U. S. is the moshava I just visited. There the farmers actually own their own land. This is in contrast to the land of the kibbutzem and moshavem (plural) which is owned by Keron Hayesod (United Jewish Appeal). All of the homes are located in a small village with their farm land in the surrounding area. The farmers are free to do as they please though subject to the regulatory laws of the government and of the village council. Most of the farmers choose to join farm cooperatives through which they can more efficiently market their produce and obtain supplies.

At the present time I am living in a religious kibbutz west of Jerusalem and finding life with religious Jews a very interesting experience. Their observance of religious customs is quite a striking contrast with the non-observance of religious customs I found in the previous settlements I have visited. Most people in Israel are not religious. In a religious kibbutz every male must wear a Keypa, skull cap, or other hat at all times and I am no exception. The men worship three times a day in the synagogue. On shabbat only the very necessary work is done—no electricity is turned on or off, no writing done, no driving of cars, no preparation of food, etc. Other than the practice of religious customs the life here is the same as in the first kibbutz I visited.

Most every settlement has some modern machinery — caterpillar and wheel tractors, combines, corn pickers, field choppers, hay balers (American made) etc., for doing the work centered around feeding dairy cattle and sheep. However, there is a large amount of hand labor employed, especially in fruit and vegetable growing. There are several reasons for this I believe: They have a large number of immigrants needing jobs, fruit and vegetable growing requires more hand labor, and they do not have and cannot afford the special equipment for this kind of work.

Israel has a very versatile agriculture. Almost everything from wheat and corn of the temperate climates to bananas and dates requiring a sub-tropical climate can be grown. While I have been here I have pulled weeds, driven tractors and helped pick grapes, peppers, tomatoes, melons, apples, olives, and cotton. Picking olives and cotton was something new for me and I found it a lot of fun. I was also surprised that they could grow apples since the temperatures here rarely go below freezing. From the field all the produce is packed into boxes and taken by trucks to the nearest packing house, Tnuva, the large selling cooperative owned by the kibbutzem and moshavem.

* * *

SINCE I have been in Israel I have found life here very pleasant and interesting though quite hot during the summer days (95 degrees - 105 degrees in the shade). Most everyone is friendly and hospitable. Many speak some English so that with my slight knowledge of Hebrew and some sign language I manage quite well in conversations with my host families.

I found that even though there are Jews here from every country in the world they are developing into a unified new country with one common goal: "To build Israel into a strong, independent nation." Each person feels he is important toward the achieving of this goal. One is reminded wherever he goes of the pride they have in their country's accomplishments.

The meals are surprisingly identical everywhere. Boiled or fried eggs; fresh tomatoes, peppers, and cucumbers; cheese; milk, tea, or lemonade; plenty of bread; and margarine or surplus U. S. butter are on the menu every meal. Once a week they have fish. Meat is a luxury few people enjoy. Variety in their diet comes only with changes in the season.

* * *

BUT LIFE in the settlements is not all work. The European custom of taking tea and cake every afternoon is a rule of life which I have acquired. It is a good stimulator of conversation. Learning the news over the radio and in the newspaper is a daily must for young and old alike. The adults spend their evenings visiting friends in the settlement and reading. Everyone looks forward to their weekly movie and swim in the pool.

Life with the sabras, native born Israelis, is quite interesting. They have the freest life in the world I believe — almost anything goes. Since all of the youths between the ages of 18 and 20 are in the army most of my associations have been with boys and girls of a younger age.

In the evenings the young people may sit on the lawn to sing and talk. At some of the settlements they like to dance the Horah, their national dance. The youth here do much more reading at an early age than do the youth in the U. S. It is not uncommon to see a child of 10 or 11 listening to the news on the radio or sitting in a corner reading.

One of the special experiences I have had is going on a "kumsetz." A kumsetz is something like a wiener roast without wieners. Most any night a group of young people may decide to make a kumsetz so off we go to a secluded place on the settlement. Some of the boys build a fire and others bring the food: melons, sweet corn and chickens. The corn and chickens are cooked in cans of water over the open fire. The unique part of it all is that they never take what they eat from their settlement but sneak it from one of the neighboring settlements. That is part of the fun though I felt quite guilty when they told me where they had gotten my food. While the food is cooking we sing together and tell jokes (a sabra hobby). Even though I know very little Hebrew and they know a little English, singing makes a wonderful common language. I was surprised to find they know many of the Negro spirituals we sing and I have learned a few Israel songs, too.

* * *

I AM enjoying my visit in Israel and the many challenging situations which keep me on my toes. By living and working with the people I am learning many things about Israel and the life here and I believe they are learning many things about life in the United States.

Browning Sanctuary

Sign Boomerangs With Police Ticket

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — A peaceful settlement has been reached between police and Charles W. Newton who wanted to reserve a parking space for himself.

Newton painted his own "no parking" sign in front of his beach area house But police, finding Newton's car parked there, promptly ticketed it.

Police backtracked on the parking ticket but pointed out Newton painted the curb illegally. "I'll erase it," Newton said, squaring things with the cops.

On U. S. railroads a milk car is classed as a passenger (not freight) train car.

Nothng Sacred

OMAHA (AP) — Robert D. Kleinschmidt of the University of Buffalo (N.Y.), told newsmen before a concert here that carillon music is either "sacred" or simply a nuisance.

His concert afterwards on the electronic carillon at an Omaha shopping center was interrupted by police, Neighbors — to prove Prof. Kleinschmidt's point—had complained the music was annoying.

Jamestown Youth, Heading Home from Israel, Describes Experiences in Letter to Parents

He left Haifa Oct. 23 just before violence broke out anew in the war - torn Middle East and is now preparing to sail from Cherbourg, France, Thursday on the Queen Mary. On his way to Cherbourg, he took time to visit several cities in Italy.

Pickering, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Pickering, expects to dock in New York Nov. 13 and four days later fly from Washington, D. C., to Columbus where he will be met by his family. His mother is the former Miss Bonnie Lynn Sollars.

* * *

PICKERING, who has been in Israel under the International Farm Youth Exchange program, tells of some of his experiences in the following letter to his parents.

"Shalom, meh eretz Israel." (Shalom, from the land of Israel) That is the greeting from everyone here to you at home. "Shalom" is the word heard most frequently wherever one goes in Israel. One says "shalom" when he greets another and also when he wants to say goodbye. But shalom has a deeper meaning when it is translated literally.

Shalom means "peace." This is the mission of the I.F.Y.E. (International Farm Youth Exchange) program by which I am in Israel: "peace through better world understanding."

During the past three months I have lived on the five kinds of farm settlements found in Israel. One might say I am "learning another's way of life by living it."

My first five weeks were spent in a kibbutz, collective farm, near Haifa. It was quite a unique experience for me since I had never seen a collective farm before. Every phase of life is worked out together. There is a common dining room, laundry, sewing room, and separated shower. The children live in houses away from their parents from the time they are born and are cared for by nurses (some of the women of the kibbutz). This arrangement possibly sounds heartless but I have found the children have a deep love for their parents, are happy and get the best of care. Letters To Editor

DEAR VOTERS:

We want to thank you for going to the polls and voting for us. We are all very happy to get a new school. The little boys and girls will enjoy the new school very much. I know the teachers are as happy as we are. We want to thank all the moms and dads, aunts and uncles and friends for voting for us. We also want to thank Mr. Smith and the Board of Education for their work.

Howard Mann New Albers Manager; Rees Goes to Lima

Howard (Skeet) Mann, 623 E. Market St., has been named manager of the Albers Marker here succeeding Herbert Rees who has been assigned as manager of an Albers super-store in the new Westgate Shopping Center at Lima.

Mann has been assistant manager here for several years. James Smith, manager of the produce department, was named assistant manager, and Kenneth VanDyke was advanced to manager of the produce department here.

Announcement of the promotions was made by Walter Heath, district manager of the company.

Letters To Editor

DEAR VOTERS:

We want to thank you for going to the polls and voting for us. We are all very happy to get a new school. The little boys and girls will enjoy the new school very much. I know the teachers are as happy as we are. We want to thank all the moms and dads, aunts and uncles and friends for voting for us. We also want to thank Mr. Smith and the Board of Education for their work.

Are You Acquainted with Changes in Social Security Law?

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article is the third of a series prepared by Leonard S. Garrard, field representative for the Social Security Administration in Fayette County. Garrard's home office is in Columbus.

By LEONARD S. GARRARD

In my last article I told of self-employed lawyers, dentists, and other professional people now covered by social security. Under the 1956 amendments to the law, their earnings started to count towards old-age and survivors insurance protection for themselves and their families as of January 1, 1956.

Naturally, they want to know how long it will take them to become insured under the law.

To become insured under social security a person must have been in work covered by the law for a specified length of time. The amount of work required is measured in "quarters of coverage" which, in a general way, corresponds with a calendar quarter of work. A self-employed person gets four quarters of coverage for a year in which he has $400 or more in net earnings from self-employment.

The usual requirements for becoming insured are one quarter of coverage out of every two calendar quarters elapsing after 1950, provided there are at least six quarters of coverage.

Under the amended law, a person who works continuously after 1955 can become insured with fewer quarters of coverage. This change in the law permits self-employed professionals and others brought under social security as of the beginning of this year to disregard their years of non-coverage in acquiring an insured status under social security.

FOR EXAMPLE, Dr. X, a self-employed dentist, is now age 63. He had never been in work covered by social security before Jan. 1, 1956. Dr. X will reach 65 in 1958 — two years after his self-employment first became covered under the amended law.

If his birthday is before April 1, he will need to have a quarter of coverage in each of the eight quarters elapsing after 1955 and up to the quarter in which he reaches 65.

If all these quarters are quarters of coverage, he will be insured for old-age benefits if he elects to retire at that time.

If Dr. X's birthday occurs in the second calendar quarter of the year, he will need nine quarters of coverage before then; if he reaches 65 in the third quarter of 1958, he will need 10 quarters of coverage before that time. If his birthday is after the end of September, 11 quarters of coverage up to that time will be required.

For death benefit purposes, however, Dr. X would be insured as early as April 1957 if all 6 of the quarters elapsing after 1955 and through the second quarter of 1957 are quarters of coverage. He would not then be insured for retirement benefits, as he would not yet be 65, but if he should die at that time, survivors payments could be made to certain of his dependents, as he would have met the minimum requirement of six quarters of coverage.

ORDINARILY, benefit amounts are based on a person's average earnings in employment or self-employment covered by the law after 1950. If all the time elapsing after 1950 were used in figuring this average, self-employed professionals newly brought under social security would have five years in which these earnings were not covered and would count against them. The amended law permits the dropping of these five years.

A self-employed dentist, lawyer, or any other person whose work was first covered by social security this year, will not have his average earnings reduced when he qualifies for benefits because his work was not covered in the years 1951 through 1955.

In these articles, I have frequently mentioned age 65 as the earliest age at which a person can qualify for old-age payments. This has been true since the beginning of social security insurance payments. It still holds for men.

The recent amendments, however, provide for the payment of benefits to women beginning at age 62.

In my next article I shall explain how women—retired insured workers and wives and widows or mothers of retired or deceased insured workers—can start getting benefit payments at age 62.

No Pacing for Papa

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Al Valencia but the father didn't get to walk the floor while awaiting the arrival. He was hospitalized eight hours earlier for an emergency appendectomy, later, in a wheelchair, he visited his wife and new son, Michael James.

'Big Business' Gains in Russia

An industrial review published here said manufacturing industries with less than 500 workers which made up 93.1 per cent of the total in 1935 now covers only 27.6 per cent of Russian industry. But plants employing up to 10,000 workers jumped from 3.2 per cent to 22.6 and those with more than 10,000 from 3.2 to 13.7.

Caterpillars Debunked As Weather Prophets

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — An old custom holds that the darker the fall coat of the woolly bear caterpillar the more severe the winter that follows.

But Prof. Thomas C. Allen, chairman of the entomology department of the University of Wisconsin, says it's just something the caterpillars ate.

"The color of the coats is due to whatever food is available when they shed their coats," Allen said.

Tractor Saves Cow

ANTIOCH, Ill. (AP) — If Arthur Bushing's cow could talk instead of only "moo" it probably would want to praise the farm tractor.

Bushing's cow got stuck in the mire and only its head and 10 inches of its back were protruding from the surface when Charles Hartnell hooked his tractor to bossy and pulled her out.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I love my fiance very much and plan to marry next March. He has been so faithful and loving to me. He calls every day and we see each other three or four times a week.

I don't doubt his love, but he never tells me he loves me. Naturally I want to hear him say that. I figure if he loves me he will tell me, so I certainly am not going to ask him!

Could you please help, by explaining his attitude. I can't see myself telling him every day that I love him, while never having him say it to me. The situation really worries me.

E. V.

DEAR E. V.: Of course we could be philosophical and sigh "One can't have everything"—and emphasize such virtues of character and behavior as your fiance does manifest. But really, you do have the makings of a long-term problem here, in his verbally noncommittal kind of devotion.

The keenest psychologists are pointing out that we lose the capacity to feel the good human feelings we don't express; and, by the same token, feelings translated into expressive words and appropriate gestures tend to grow in vitality and scope.

Thus to say sincerely "I love you" and recite the appreciative reasons why, helps to increase the magnitude and depths of your delight in the beloved while, at the same time, promoting the growth of a reciprocal fund of love for yourself.

Failure to nourish cherished relationships, with frequent fresh phrasing of love and appreciation, has a withering effect on mutual feeling. Such neglect, whether due to selfishness, thoughtlessness, awkward inarticulacy or a social tradition of being "emotionally contained," plays a large part in making marriage a stale routine.

It seems that part of your problem may be that you are almost as "contained" as your fiance, not at all the molten adoring type; and that you rather look to him to rescue you from the emotional deep freeze, as it were—while (possibly) he would be grateful if you would set the pace of romantic revelation.

You say in a pouting tone that you can't emphasize your love of him, if he doesn't speak first. But isn't that making feeble excuses for yourself? After all, he has given you sufficient cue, in wanting to be your husband.

In any case, to solve the stalemate, if it can be solved, you might try the following: (1) Tell him what is in your heart, of love and appreciation, when events make such speech appropriate, (2) tactfully acquaint him with your heart hunger for the same kind of "giving" from him, (3) Remember the Golden Rule.

Auto Horns Go 'Softy'

Candidate of scientists and safety experts to take over from the present type horns is this electronic device using tiny transisters to produce an entirely new sound in a range audible to the human ear.

By JOHN F. SEMBOWER
(Central Press Association)

CHICAGO — Evolution of the auto horn from the old "Ah-oooogah" and the present "Beeeep" to "Whoo000ooo000" is predicted here by electronics engineers who are using tiny new transisters in their design of an "ideal" warning sound for motorists that will conform with the national trend to anti-noise laws.

The new horn gives a sort of warble that is highly arresting. As test cars try it out on the street here, policemen cock their ears, school kids giggle, and some girls seem to think they are "whistle bait."

Engineers at the horn manufacturing firm where the development work is going on maintain that more than the novelty gets it through to the consciousness of preoccupied pedestrians and drivers of other cars. In their language, it is the audible sound of 1,000 to 3,000 cycles per second that does it.

Sounds at that level are heard most readily by the human ear and also carry well, the scientists maintain. The warbling effect uses the same principle as the rising and falling pitch of the type of air raid warning sirens that now is considered best by many civil defense officials.

* * *

ONE OF THE worst features of horns now in general use, according to the safety engineers working on the project, is that their intensity at close range startles some people so that they "freeze" in the path of danger.

Movie cameras mounted on cars have caught pictures of pedestrians being seared motionless in crosswalks when blown at by current horns. Some old people and children even have reacted by jumping unthinkingly into the very path of an oncoming vehicle. Yet such horns do not carry very well at distances.

Anti-horn-blowing ordinances have been passed recently in many communities throughout the United States, with fines running as high as $200 for toots by motorists unable to convince patrolmen that there was an emergency.

* * *

AS A RESULT, many motorists are developing "buck fever" about using the horn at all, with the result that warnings are not given in time, safety experts contend.

The "horn of the future" is a gadget built of the little transisters which are replacing vacuum tubes in many radios and hearing aids, making it possible to reduce them to fantastically small sizes.

In probing into the many new uses for the miniature electronic "work horses," it occurred to the firm's engineers that they might solve the new safety automobile assignment handed to them by safety engineers.

Almost any sound can be produced and amplified by this method, and even entirely new sounds can be worked out. In theory, at least, such sounds may be made much more effective and pleasing compared with those produced by present - day automobile horns.

* * *

BOTH safety experts and electronics engineers expect a considerable "shakedown period" before the new horns gain universal acceptance. They point to resistance in switching from the old steam whistle to the modern diesel horn.

They also predict that the warning devices on trains may undergo another switch soon to the warbler they are trying out for automobile use. After all, nature already has such a tone which has been known to scientists for many years as "the Dopler effect."

That "effect" is the illusion you have that a long, sustained whistle rises in pitch as it moves toward you compressing the sound waves, or falls in tone as it moves away into the distance. The old train whistles you used to hear "Whoo-000-ooo-000ing" mournfully through the lonely night far away harnessed that effect— but you heard it!

Some scientists suggest that maybe Mother Nature knew best all along, and that the warbling tone of the proposed auto horn is the right way!

Living It Up Painlessly Is Growing Trend

Americans Utilize Payment Plans To Get What They Want

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Living it up painlessly is the goal today of an increasing number of Americans First Uncle Sam gave a helping hand. Now it's the banks, although mostly with reluctance.

For some time living it up has been an American habit—meaning, living up the current and expected income by budgeting it carefully and premortgaging it on the instalment plan. For most this means determining over just how many different weekly or monthly payments the paycheck will stretch. For the cautious it also means leaving a few dollars leaway for emergencies.

Painless dentistry has entered this way of life increasing of late. This consists in essence of making the payments as nearly unnoticed as possible — by having them extracted either from the paycheck itself or by prearranged bank payments without troubling the debtor.

Uncle Sam gave the movement its first big boost when he had employers deduct income tax and social security payments from paychecks. As one result, many persons know only vaguely what percentage of their income goes for taxes.

Many other deductions can be made. You can arrange similarly for payment of union dues, contributions to pension programs and purchase of savings bonds or of stock in the company where you work.

You never get your hands on the total amount you're told your employer is paying you—or, to put in the terms in which management sees it, on the amount it costs the company to have you around.

Accustomed to this, many Americans began budgeting to see just how many payments the remaining income would cover. Their standard of living is now determined not so much by what the wage earner makes but by how much he dares to owe.

This policy is popular because for many families it has worked well. It is popular with manufacturers because it is the way that the most goods with high price tags can be sold. And this is a way of life that is widely credited with bringing American industrialism to its present high state of prosperity.

The one painful thing has been the relentless arrival of the periodic payment time. The remedy now catching on is to arrange with the company you owe and with your bank for regular and automatic repayment. This preauthorized check plan has been tried for paying such regularly recurring items as insurance premiums and utility bills.

Common Carrier

CALGARY (AP) — A city police cruiser found a stray goat wandering around in southwest Calgary and loaded it into the back seat for a ride to the pound. On the way, the police saw a man weaving down the street. They picked him up as a drunk, and put him in the back seat with the goat rather than make two trips.

CHICAGO — Evolution of the auto horn from the old "Ah-oooo-gah" and the present "Beeeep" to "Whoo000ooo000" is predicted here by electronics engineers who are using tiny new transisters in their design of an "ideal" warning sound for motorists that will conform with the national trend to anti-noise laws.

The new horn gives a sort of warble that is highly arresting. As test cars try it out on the street here, policemen cock their ears, school kids giggle, and some girls seem to think they are "whistle bait."

Engineers at the horn manufacturing firm where the development work is going on maintain that more than the novelty gets it through to the consciousness of preoccupied pedestrians and drivers of other cars. In their language, it is the audible sound of 1,000 to 3,000 cycles per second that does it.

Sounds at that level are heard most readily by the human ear and also carry well, the scientists maintain. The warbling effect uses the same principle as the rising and falling pitch of the type of air raid warning sirens that now is considered best by many civil defense officials.

* * *

ONE OF THE worst features of horns now in general use, according to the safety engineers working on the project, is that their intensity at close range startles some people so that they "freeze" in the path of danger.

Movie cameras mounted on cars have caught pictures of pedestrians being scared motionless in crosswalks when blown at by current horns. Some old people and children even have reacted by jumping unthinkingly into the very path of an oncoming vehicle. Yet such horns do not carry very well at distances.

Anti-horn-blowing ordinances have been passed recently in many communities throughout the United States, with fines running as high as $200 for toots by motorists unable to convince patrolmen that there was an emergency.

* * *

AS A RESULT, many motorists are developing "buck fever" about using the horn at all, with the result that warnings are not given in time, safety experts contend.

The "horn of the future" is a gadget built of the little transisters which are replacing vacuum tubes in many radios and hearing aids, making it possible to reduce them to fantastically small sizes.

In probing into the many new uses for the miniature electronic "work horses," it occurred to the firm's engineers that they might solve the new safety automobile assignment handed to them by safety engineers.

Almost any sound can be produced and amplified by this method, and even entirely new sounds can be worked out. In theory, at least, such sounds may be made much more effective and pleasing compared with those produced by present - day automobile horns.

* * *

BOTH safety experts and electronics engineers expect a considerable "shakedown period" before the new horns gain universal acceptance. They point to resistance in switching from the old steam whistle to the modern diesel horn.

They also predict that the warning devices on trains may undergo another switch soon to the warbler they are trying out for automobile use. After all, nature already has such a tone which has been known to scientists for many years as "the Dopler effect."

That "effect" is the illusion you have that a long, sustained whistle rises in pitch as it moves toward you compressing the sound waves, or falls in tone as it moves away into the distance. The old train whistles you used to hear "Whoo-000-ooo-000ing" mournfully through the lonely night far away harnessed that effect— but you heard it!

Some scientists suggest that maybe Mother Nature knew best all along, and that the warbling tone of the proposed auto horn is the right way!

Living It Up Painlessly Is Growing Trend

Americans Utilize Payment Plans To Get What They Want

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Living it up painlessly is the goal today of an increasing number of Americans. First Uncle Sam gave a helping hand. Now it's the banks, although mostly with reluctance.

For some time living it up has been an American habit—meaning, living up the current and expected income by budgeting it carefully and premortgaging it on the instalment plan. For most this means determining over just how many different weekly or monthly payments the paycheck will stretch. For the cautious it also means leaving a few dollars leaway for emergencies.

Painless dentistry has entered this way of life increasing of late. This consists in essence of making the payments as nearly unnoticed as possible — by having them extracted either from the paycheck itself or by prearranged bank payments without troubling the debtor.

Uncle Sam gave the movement its first big boost when he had employers deduct income tax and social security payments from paychecks. As one result, many persons know only vaguely what percentage of their income goes for taxes.

Many other deductions can be made. You can arrange similarly for payment of union dues, contributions to pension programs and purchase of savings bonds or of stock in the company where you work.

You never get your hands on the total amount you're told your employer is paying you—or, to put in the terms in which management sees it, on the amount it costs the company to have you around.

Accustomed to this, many Americans began budgeting to see just how many payments the remaining income would cover. Their standard of living is now determined not so much by what the wage earner makes but by how much he dares to owe.

This policy is popular because for many families it has worked well. It is popular with manufacturers because it is the way that the most goods with high price tags can be sold. And this is a way of life that is widely credited with bringing American industrialism to its present high state of prosperity.

The one painful thing has been the relentless arrival of the periodic payment time. The remedy now catching on is to arrange with the company you owe and with your bank for regular and automatic repayment. This preauthorized check plan has been tried for paying such regularly recurring items as insurance premiums and utility bills.

Common Carrier

CALGARY (AP) — A city police cruiser found a stray goat wandering around in southwest Calgary and loaded it into the back seat for a ride to the pound. On the way, the police saw a man weaving down the street. They picked him up as a drunk, and put him in the back seat with the goat rather than make two trips.

Awards Made At Good Hope Grange Meet

Two awards were presented for outstanding service at this month's meeting of the Good Hope Grange. The presentations were made by County Deputy Roscoe Whiteside.

One went to Charles Morgan, a past master, for directing participation in the Grange community service contest last year and the other to Mrs. O. L. Eckle, for her promptness and efficiency as secretary.

Deputy and Mrs. Whiteside each spoke briefly, reviewing the action taken at the State Grange convention. Whiteside also announced that a meeting of masters, lecturers and home economics committees will be held Nov. 10 in the Farm Bureau auditorium.

During the business session conducted by Master Glen Whittington, a $10 contribution to the Community Chest and one of $5 to CROP were voted.

Plans for the annual Christmas party on Dec. 12 at Wayne Hall were outlined. It is to start with a covered dish supper in charge of the home economics committee. The program is to be directed by the lecturer and the decorations are to be arranged by Mrs. Everett Rife.

* * *

WHITTINGTON reported on the Booster Night supper, the county-wide officer installation service conducted by the Pickaway County Grange team and the picking of corn for Chester Ratliff, a neighbor who is ill.

Loy Lee Overly was voted into membership.

"Thanksgiving" was the theme of the evening's program in charge of Mrs. Elva Overly, lecturer, who read an article "November." Mrs. Harry Rains read an article entitled "A Thanksgiving Letter."

Good Hope Grange members are to visit the New Martinsville Grange at its meeting Nov. 13 when the Good Hope Grange lecturer is to be on the program.

On the refreshment committee for the meeting were Mr. and Mrs. Verne Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Rothrock and Mrs. Marlyn Taylor.

Grain Market

GRAIN FUTURES

CHICAGO (AP) — Grains opened firm in moderately active dealings on the Board of Trade today. Prices continued to push ahead after the opening.

Prospects of export business, light receipts of cash grain and concern over the Middle East situation prompted the buying. Offerings were rather light in all pits.

Wheat started 3/8 to 3/4 higher, December $2.35 3/8-1/2, corn 1/4 to 1 1/4 higher, December $1.38 1/2-3/4, oats unchanged to 3/8 higher, December 79 1/4-3/8, and soybeans 1/2 to 1 3/8 higher, November $2.48-$2.48 1/4.

Homemade Bomb

CINCINNATI (AP)—Police reported a homemade bomb was thrown into a first-floor apartment late Wednesday night, exploding and injuring one of the occupants. Miss Stella Brown, 22, suffered face cuts.

Investigators said Miss Brown and two friends who were with her said they heard someone in the back yard and then a "terrific" explosion. The blast blew out windows and ripped off a door.

Farm Bureau Elects, Votes On Resolutions

Members of the Fayette County Farm Bureau Federation Thursday afternoon will count the ballots that were cast at Wednesday night's annual meeting in the Farm Bureau Auditorium. About 140 people voted on 16 resolutions besides electing new officers.

The meeting was highlighted by a panel discussion which was led by Bill Alfred, assistant farm director of Radio Station WLW. Panel members, who discussed pros and cons of various resolutions,, were Kenneth Bush, Frank Sollars, Edwin Buck and Assistant Postmaster Henry Engle.

The ballot committee decided not to count votes during the meeting, as is the custom, so that they could listen to he speakers.

Harry Hiser, president, chaired the meeting, and Maurice Sollars presented the report of the nominating committee.

Results of the ballot count will be announced Friday.

Plan Special Services At Greenfield Church

Special services are to be conducted by the Rev. Hollie Conley, of Ashland, Ky., at the Christian Baptist Church, South St., in Greenfield, Saturday, Sunday and Monday at 7:30 p. m., the Rev. F. E. Veach, pastor of the Greenfield Church, announced Thursday.

The Rev. Mr. Veach also said revival services, conducted by the Rev. William Whitmore, will be held each evening, starting Tuesday and continuing until Nov. 25.

Approximately 40 per cent of U. S. public and private secondary schools now offer automobile driver instruction to students.

Pork Popular In Nation's Food Markets

(By The Associated Press)

Pork will be popular with the price-conscious housewife again this week.

Food stores across the country have cut pork prices, sometimes as much as 10 and 20 cents, to reflect the recent drop on the wholesale market. Here and there prices are a little higher.

Eggs are also generally cheaper and in many places beef is down. Shoppers can look forward to further easing of beef prices too, since wholesale butcher prices for this meat showed another moderate decline.

Wholesale prices for pork moved up narrowly this week but are still around their lowest levels in many months. This is the season when a heavy run of hogs comes to market and housewives can expect attractive pork prices for the next several weeks at least.

Among vegetables, late fall crops still dominate the list of outstanding buys. These include cabbage, cauliflower and beets.

Potatoes are a little higher now, but are still classed as a very good buy.

Russia (Ohio) Shows It Likes Ike

This tiny town in Shelby County gave President Eisenhower 246 votes to 156 for Democrat Adlai E Stevenson in Tuesday's election. Russia normally is Democratic.

Sales of bottled soft drinks in 1955 increased for a record 184.2 bottles per person annually in the U. S.

Awards Made At Good Hope Grange Meet

Two awards were presented for outstanding service at this month's meeting of the Good Hope Grange. The presentations were made by County Deputy Roscoe Whiteside.

One went to Charles Morgan, a past master, for directing participation in the Grange community service contest last year and the other to Mrs. O. L. Eckle, for her promptness and efficiency as secretary.

Deputy and Mrs. Whiteside each spoke briefly, reviewing the action taken at the State Grange convention. Whiteside also announced that a meeting of masters, lecturers and home economics committees will be held Nov. 10 in the Farm Bureau auditorium.

During the business session conducted by Master Glen Whittington, a $10 contribution to the Community Chest and one of $5 to CROP were voted.

Plans for the annual Christmas party on Dec. 12 at Wayne Hall were outlined. It is to start with a covered dish supper in charge of the home economics committee. The program is to be directed by the lecturer and the decorations are to be arranged by Mrs. Everett Rife.

* * *

WHITTINGTON reported on the Booster Night supper, the county-wide officer installation service conducted by the Pickaway County Grange team and the picking of corn for Chester Ratliff, a neighbor who is ill.

Loy Lee Overly was voted into membership.

"Thanksgiving" was the theme of the evening's program in charge of Mrs. Elva Overly, lecturer, who read an article "November." Mrs. Harry Rains read an article entitled "A Thanksgiving Letter."

Good Hope Grange members are to visit the New Martinsville Grange at its meeting Nov. 13 when the Good Hope Grange lecturer is to be on the program.

On the refreshment committee for the meeting were Mr. and Mrs. Verne Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Rothrock and Mrs. Marlyn Taylor.

Grain Market

GRAIN FUTURES

CHICAGO (AP) — Grains opened firm in moderately active dealings on the Board of Trade today. Prices continued to push ahead after the opening.

Prospects of export business, light receipts of cash grain and concern over the Middle East situation prompted the buying. Offerings were rather light in all pits.

Wheat started 3/8 to 3/4 higher, December $2.35 3/8-1/2, corn 1/4 to 1 1/4 higher, December $1.38 1/2-3/4, oats unchanged to 3/8 higher, December 79 1/4-3/8, and soybeans 1/2 to 1 3/8 higher, November $2.48-$2.48 1/4.

Homemade Bomb

CINCINNATI (AP)—Police reported a homemade bomb was thrown into a first-floor apartment late Wednesday night, exploding and injuring one of the occupants. Miss Stella Brown, 22, suffered face cuts.

Investigators said Miss Brown and two friends who were with her said they heard someone in the back yard and then a "terrific" explosion. The blast blew out windows and ripped off a door.

Farm Bureau Elects, Votes On Resolutions

Members of the Fayette County Farm Bureau Federation Thursday afternoon will count the ballots that were cast at Wednesday night's annual meeting in the Farm Bureau Auditorium. About 140 people voted on 16 resolutions besides electing new officers.

The meeting was highlighted by a panel discussion which was led by Bill Alfred, assistant farm director of Radio Station WLW. Panel members, who discussed pros and cons of various resolutions,, were Kenneth Bush, Frank Sollars, Edwin Buck and Assistant Postmaster Henry Engle.

The ballot committee decided not to count votes during the meeting, as is the custom, so that they could listen to he speakers.

Harry Hiser, president, chaired the meeting, and Maurice Sollars presented the report of the nominating committee.

Results of the ballot count will be announced Friday.

2 Young Bandits Get $877 in Store

CINCINNATI (AP) —Two young bandits robbed a grocery in nearby Miami Heights of $877 at gunpoint Wednesday night and took two clerks with them.

Officers said the men took Gilbert Otto, 47, and George Bell, 18, eight miles from the store in a car before letting them out.

Plan Special Services At Greenfield Church

Special services are to be conducted by the Rev. Hollie Conley, of Ashland, Ky., at the Christian Baptist Church, South St., in Greenfield, Saturday, Sunday and Monday at 7:30 p. m., the Rev. F. E. Veach, pastor of the Greenfield Church, announced Thursday.

The Rev. Mr. Veach also said revival services, conducted by the Rev. William Whitmore, will be held each evening, starting Tuesday and continuing until Nov. 25.

Approximately 40 per cent of U. S. public and private secondary schools now offer automobile driver instruction to students.

Pork Popular In Nation's Food Markets

(By The Associated Press)

Pork will be popular with the price-conscious housewife again this week.

Food stores across the country have cut pork prices, sometimes as much as 10 and 20 cents, to reflect the recent drop on the wholesale market. Here and there prices are a little higher.

Eggs are also generally cheaper and in many places beef is down. Shoppers can look forward to further easing of beef prices too, since wholesale butcher prices for this meat showed another moderate decline.

Wholesale prices for pork moved up narrowly this week but are still around their lowest levels in many months. This is the season when a heavy run of hogs comes to market and housewives can expect attractive pork prices for the next several weeks at least.

Among vegetables, late fall crops still dominate the list of outstanding buys. These include cabbage, cauliflower and beets.

Potatoes are a little higher now, but are still classed as a very good buy.

Russia (Ohio) Shows It Likes Ike

This tiny town in Shelby County gave President Eisenhower 246 votes to 156 for Democrat Adlai E Stevenson in Tuesday's election. Russia normally is Democratic.

Sales of bottled soft drinks in 1955 increased for a record 184.2 bottles per person annually in the U. S.

Time To Check Car For Bitter Weather

"Do you like to wait in lines? No? Then don't wait until really cold weather arrives to have your car checked for the freezing months ahead!"

This is the advice of an official of the Fayette County Automobile Club.

"Most of us can recall the 'mob scenes' around garages and service stations on last year's cold nights, when we vowed we would never get caught that way again," said the local AAA club official.

"This is the time to carry out that good resolution!

"Getting a car properly checked for winter is a safety measure of first importance. In addition to attention to radiator and lubrication, this is the time also for brake adjustments, wheel alignment, lights carefully checked.

"Garage men just don't have the time to do all those things properly when the big job of the moment is to keep radiators from freezing.

"Now, not next month, is the time for all careful drivers to come to the aid of their cars, preparing for safer driving in the months ahead."

Time To Check Car For Bitter Weather

"Do you like to wait in lines? No? Then don't wait until really cold weather arrives to have your car checked for the freezing months ahead!"

This is the advice of an official of the Fayette County Automobile Club.

"Most of us can recall the 'mob scenes' around garages and service stations on last year's cold nights, when we vowed we would never get caught that way again," said the local AAA club official.

"This is the time to carry out that good resolution!

"Getting a car properly checked for winter is a safety measure of first importance. In addition to attention to radiator and lubrication, this is the time also for brake adjustments, wheel alignment, lights carefully checked.

"Garage men just don't have the time to do all those things properly when the big job of the moment is to keep radiators from freezing.

"Now, not next month, is the time for all careful drivers to come to the aid of their cars, preparing for safer driving in the months ahead."

Enough milk is produced annually in the U. S. to fill a river 3,286 miles long, 50 feet wide and 3 feet deep.

Round about Fayette County

B. E. KELLEY

Recently, on Fayette County roads, I have seen at least a dozen dead raccoons, all about half grown, which have fallen victim to motor vehicles while the animals were crossing the highways at night.

In the same time I have seen what was left of a half dozen opossums.

On one occasion when a full grown opossum started to cross the highway, I honked the horn, slowed down and started to swerve to prevent running over it. The animal turned about and trotted off the traveled surface of the road.

The fact that no mature raccoons and opossums were in the list of casualties indicates that the adult animals are more cautious than the young, and realize the dangers of approaching motor vehicles.

Many more raccoons and opossums are killed on the highways than are trapped or shot during the open season on them.

CITY POSTMASTERS

The Washington Post Office was established July 7, 1813 and was changed to the Washington Court House Post Office in the late 1830's or early 1840's.

During the 143 years the post office here has been in operation, there have been 23 different postmasters. The list of long termers was led by W. E. Passmore who served 20 years and the next long termer was Henry L. Robinson, who served 17 years.

This complete list of Washington C. H. postmasters was compiled, for the most part, by J. Martin Scrange, of Washington D. C., and a copy was given to the Record-Herald by Dick Smith.

The list follows, with name of postmaster, date of appointment, and president under whom the appointments were made:

Richard Millikan, April 28, 1849, Taylor. Charles H. Bell, May 30, 1853, Pierce. John Sanders, Nov. 11, 1853, Pierce. James F. Ely, Feb. 28, 1859, Buchanan. Edgar Plumb, April 10, 1861, Lincoln, and Henry L. Robinson, April 23, 1866, Johnson.

Sherman A. Murry, Jan. 10, 1916, Wilson. Horace C. Ireland, Act., Jan. 16, 1920, Wilson. Glenn B. Rodgers, June 4, 1920, Wilson. Glenn B. Rodgers, Dec. 10, 1924, Coolidge. Glenn B. Rodgers, Dec. 8, 1928, Coolidge. William E. Passmore, March 14, 1934, Roosevelt, and William E. Passmore, April 15, 1938, Roosevelt.

Passmore was under Civil Service from 1942 until Oct. 4, 1954.

POSTMASTER'S HOBBIES

When I visited Walter M. Free, postmaster at Good Hope, recently, he showed me a lovely walnut cabinet containing many worthwhile guns, both old and new, and I became aware that Walter is a real gun collector, and has a storehouse of knowledge on guns of many types.

He had several muzzle loaders as well as modern guns, and one, a massive "bench gun" was particularly interesting.

Walter has been collecting guns for some 15 years, and is a regular attendant at the gun and Indian relic shows and sales held here.

He also is a colored picture fan, and has some interesting films in his collection.

As I have numerous hobbies, and get a thrill out of all of them, I know Walter is having a lot of pleasure out of his two main hobbies.

PEARS AND PEARS

I have never seen so many Kieffer pears hanging on the trees, apparently going to waste, as I have recently. Or perhaps I have not been around as much in recent falls as I have this autumn.

It is apparent that Kieffer pears are not as popular as they were in former years, and the average person (unless he is a hungry youngster) gives the fruit little attention.

There are still thousands of Kieffer pear trees in the county, most of them of considerable age, for I do not believe any small trees are being added to orchards.

Kieffer pears are listed as a hybrid of inferior quality but "persistant to fire blight", according to Webster's Dictionary. However I have seen more fire blight on Kieffer pear trees than any other fruit trees.

Bartlett pears seem to be the favorites in this area, although, surprising to say, there are comparatively few of them grown.

This leading American variety of pear, which originated in France and England in 1770, was introduced in America and distributed by Enoch Bartlett, of Dorchester, Mass., who gave the pear his own name.

Anyway pears of all kinds are wonderful fruit, and are much to be desired as an adjunct to the diet.

NROTC Examination Deadline Approaches

High school seniors and graduates have only until Nov. 17 to apply for the Navy's Reserve Officer Training Corps, Adm. James A. Holloway, Jr., Chief of Naval Personnel warns. Applicants will take the nationwide competitive examination on Dec. 8 as the first step toward an appointment as midshipman.

Designed to supplement the officer output of the Naval Academy, the NROTC program makes it possible for a young man to earn a commission while studying at the civilian college of his choice which has an NROTC unit. All tuition, fees and books are furnished by the Navy, and the student receives an annual retainer of $600 for four years. During the summers the studen. goes on fascinating training cruises to many parts of the world.

After completing the usual four year college course, he is commissioned in the regular Navy or Marine Corps and goes on active duty with the Navy's far - flung fleets.

* * *

HIGH SCHOOL seniors and graduates between the ages of 17 and 21 may apply for the NROTC aptitude test. Those who make a qualifying score will be given a rigid physical exam early in 1957.

From the pool of qualified young men remaining in competition, approximately 2,000 will be selected to begin their naval careers next September.

The NROTC college training program is also open to enlisted men on active duty with the Navy and Marines. Separate quotas are established for applicants from within these services.

Application forms are available at all high schools, colleges, Navy recruiting stations or from the Chief of Naval Personnel, Washington 25, D. C.

That Personal Touch

He noticed two youths enter a customer's car parked in front of the floral shop and drive away.

Olmstead jumped into his car, forced the two teen - aged boys to stop, turned them over to the police and returned the car to his customer.

Justice with Mercy For Worried Father

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — City Magistrate C. W. Pensinger tempered justice with mercy for Arnold Sidman who got three traffic tickets rushing his injured daughter to the hospital.

Sidman's daughter had mashed her fingers in a washing machine, and he said he believed the child's condition warranted the speed.

Pensinger gave him a sentence of $85 or 60 days in jail — and suspended it.

Round about Fayette County

B. E. KELLEY

Recently, on Fayette County roads, I have seen at least a dozen dead raccoons, all about half grown, which have fallen victim to motor vehicles while the animals were crossing the highways at night.

In the same time I have seen what was left of a half dozen opossums.

On one occasion when a full grown opossum started to cross the highway, I honked the horn, slowed down and started to swerve to prevent running over it. The animal turned about and trotted off the traveled surface of the road.

The fact that no mature raccoons and opossums were in the list of casualties indicates that the adult animals are more cautious than the young, and realize the dangers of approaching motor vehicles.

Many more raccoons and opossums are killed on the highways than are trapped or shot during the open season on them.

CITY POSTMASTERS

The Washington Post Office was established July 7, 1813 and was changed to the Washington Court House Post Office in the late 1830's or early 1840's.

During the 143 years the post office here has been in operation, there have been 23 different postmasters. The list of long termers was led by W. E. Passmore who served 20 years and the next long termer was Henry L. Robinson, who served 17 years.

This complete list of Washington C. H. postmasters was compiled, for the most part, by J. Martin Scrange, of Washington D. C., and a copy was given to the Record-Herald by Dick Smith.

The list follows, with name of postmaster, date of appointment, and president under whom the appointments were made:

Richard Millikan, April 28, 1849, Taylor. Charles H. Bell, May 30, 1853, Pierce. John Sanders, Nov. 11, 1853, Pierce. James F. Ely, Feb. 28, 1859, Buchanan. Edgar Plumb, April 10, 1861, Lincoln, and Henry L. Robinson, April 23, 1866, Johnson.

POSTMASTER'S HOBBIES

When I visited Walter M. Free, postmaster at Good Hope, recently, he showed me a lovely walnut cabinet containing many worthwhile guns, both old and new, and I became aware that Walter is a real gun collector, and has a storehouse of knowledge on guns of many types.

He had several muzzle loaders as well as modern guns, and one, a massive "bench gun" was particularly interesting.

Walter has been collecting guns for some 15 years, and is a regular attendant at the gun and Indian relic shows and sales held here.

He also is a colored picture fan, and has some interesting films in his collection.

As I have numerous hobbies, and get a thrill out of all of them, I know Walter is having a lot of pleasure out of his two main hobbies.

PEARS AND PEARS

I have never seen so many Kieffer pears hanging on the trees, apparently going to waste, as I have recently. Or perhaps I have not been around as much in recent falls as I have this autumn.

It is apparent that Kieffer pears are not as popular as they were in former years, and the average person (unless he is a hungry youngster) gives the fruit little attention.

There are still thousands of Kieffer pear trees in the county, most of them of considerable age, for I do not believe any small trees are being added to orchards.

Kieffer pears are listed as a hybrid of inferior quality but "persistant to fire blight", according to Webster's Dictionary. However I have seen more fire blight on Kieffer pear trees than any other fruit trees.

Bartlett pears seem to be the favorites in this area, although, surprising to say, there are comparatively few of them grown.

This leading American variety of pear, which originated in France and England in 1770, was introduced in America and distributed by Enoch Bartlett, of Dorchester, Mass., who gave the pear his own name.

Anyway pears of all kinds are wonderful fruit, and are much to be desired as an adjunct to the diet.

NROTC Examination Deadline Approaches

High school seniors and graduates have only until Nov. 17 to apply for the Navy's Reserve Officer Training Corps, Adm. James A. Holloway, Jr., Chief of Naval Personnel warns. Applicants will take the nationwide competitive examination on Dec. 8 as the first step toward an appointment as midshipman.

Designed to supplement the officer output of the Naval Academy, the NROTC program makes it possible for a young man to earn a commission while studying at the civilian college of his choice which has an NROTC unit. All tuition, fees and books are furnished by the Navy, and the student receives an annual retainer of $600 for four years. During the summers the student goes on fascinating training cruises to many parts of the world.

After completing the usual four year college course, he is commissioned in the regular Navy or Marine Corps and goes on active duty with the Navy's far-flung fleets.

* * *

HIGH SCHOOL seniors and graduates between the ages of 17 and 21 may apply for the NROTC aptitude test. Those who make a qualifying score will be given a rigid physical exam early in 1957.

From the pool of qualified young men remaining in competition, approximately 2,000 will be selected to begin their naval careers next September.

The NROTC college training program is also open to enlisted men on active duty with the Navy and Marines. Separate quotas are established for applicants from within these services.

Application forms are available at all high schools, colleges, Navy recruiting stations or from the Chief of Naval Personnel, Washington 25, D. C.

That Personal Touch

He noticed two youths enter a customer's car parked in front of the floral shop and drive away.

Olmstead jumped into his car, forced the two teen-aged boys to stop, turned them over to the police and returned the car to his customer.

Justice with Mercy For Worried Father

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — City Magistrate C. W. Pensinger tempered justice with mercy for Arnold Sidman who got three traffic tickets rushing his injured daughter to the hospital.

Sidman's daughter had mashed her fingers in a washing machine, and he said he believed the child's condition warranted the speed.

Pensinger gave him a sentence of $85 or 60 days in jail — and suspended it.

Israelites Have Plagued Egypt For Many Turbulent Centuries

By FRANKLIN JOHNSON
(Central Press Association)

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Israel's thrust at Egypt is a classic instance of history—ancient history at that—repeating itself, and if the Egyptians heed their long history they might well "Beware of the Israelites!" say many close observers here of affairs past and present in the almost always turbulent Middle East.

For Egypt successfully to tweak the tail of the British lion, and tie up France, even the United States, and all the other world powers in frustration over the Suez canal crisis, and then come acropper of the relatively tiny Israeli republic is typical of what has been happening for centuries, they point out.

"Nasser may dream of a revival of Egypt's greatness, but in the years when Egypt was the dominant world empire in its sphere and contending with Babylon for supremacy of the ancient world, it always was Israel which kept after it like a gadfly capable of making its big neighbor miserable at crucial moments," comments one of the leading Biblical scholars.

* * *

HE REGARDS the current outbreak as "a fantastic re-enactment of the oldest rivalry on earth." Dr. J. F. McCurdy, one of the leading authorities on the history of Palestine, points out that for six centuries, about 2300 to 1700 B. C., Babylonians occupied the area now comprising independent Israel, and then for the next three centuries it was virtually a province of Egypt.

Egyptian history, preoccupied with the complicated succession of its dynasties, tends to underestimate Israel. It also may reflect the fact that almost every time the Palestinian tribes came into Egypt's ken, they managed finally to come out on top.

For Israel, however, the drama of history is the opposite. Egypt always has been the "big league," and it has played roles as a bullying neighbor, a reluctant ally, a teacher of many valuable lessons even during adversity, and the source of some stirring victories.

Difficulties between Israel and Egypt started in Abraham's time, when according to the 12th Chapter of Genesis, Paraoh tried to appropriate the Jewish patriarch's pretty wife, Sarah, when the Israelites had to travel to Egypt for food during a famine in the Dead sea area.

Egypt felt the sting of a disapproving Lord for this disreputable episode, and plague swept the land. Pharaoh said to Abraham rather lamely, "Why did you not tell me she was your wife? Now then, here is your wife, take her and be gone." Abraham, his herds and flocks replenished, returned to Palestine.

* * *

JOSEPH, Abraham's grandson, next went to Egypt, and was sold into slavery by his jealous brothers in the coat-of-many-colors incident. He overcame the wiles of his master, Potiphar, captain of Pharaoh's guard, and eventually became Pharaoh's own prime minister. Seventy of his relatives settled along the fertile Nile valley.

It was standard procedure in the era for dominant peoples to try to absorb their enemies; Babylon had tried it earlier with the Israelites and failed, and Egypt did no better. The Bible explains, 'But the descendents of Israel were fruitful and increased greatly; they multiplied and grew exceeding strong so that all the land was filled with them."

A ruthless Egyptian regime then enslaved the Israelites and decreed genocide—every newborn male Jewish baby must be cast into the Nile. Moses survived when his mother set him afloat in the Nile in a basket, and he was rescued by Pharaoh's daughter bathing among the bullrushes.

It was Moses and his brother, Aaron, who stood before Pharaoh and demanded, "Let my people go!" Pharaoh's response was to order them back to the Egyptian public works. Thus began the Exodus, still celebrated in the Passover by Jews everywhere.

* * *

THE BIBLE recounts that Moses brought the Egyptians to their knees with a succession of plagues to which the Israelites remained miraculously immune. Water-turned-to-blood, frogs, gnats, flies, a cattle plague, boils, sores, thunder, hail, fire, locusts and a three-day darkness befell the progressively more unhappy Egyptians.

Finally, after the first - born of all Egyptians and all their animals had been stricken, Pharoah let them go. When he changed his mind and chased them, the parted waters of the Red Sea rushed together and his army of 600 chariots was drowned.

After wandering 40 years in the wilderness, the Israelites reached Canaan, their ancestral homeland the general area of the present-day Israeli republic. "After the Exodus, Egypt never again received any great number of Israelites," explains Dr. McCurdy.

Later Egypt did, however, encourage the Israelites to fight Assyria and the Chaldeans by promising aid they never gave, with the result that the prophet Isaiah with biting sarcasm gave Egypt a nickname that has stuck with the Israeli—"Rahab," "the do-nothing blusterer." How well it holds true in the modern world remains to be seen.

Doglet Rescued From Eager Eagle

Soon after they heard their dog's cries and rushed out to find a large eagle on the animal, trying to fly away with it.

The couple said they frightened the bird away and treated the dog for gashes, scratches and cuts from the eagle's claws.

'Ghost Squadron'

TILLSONBURG, Ont. (AP) — A "ghost" squadron of 50 World War II planes has been sitting on the farm of Ernest Simmons in formation as though ready to take off, since 1945. He bought the Harvard trainers in 1945 to be repaired and sold, but the government vetoed the idea.

INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE reporter Katherine Clark stands beside her car in Vienna, Austria, where she finally arrived after being held virtually prisoner by the Russians in Hungary for 31 hours. She and other Americans who had left Budapest in a convoy were turned back by Russian soldiers in two tanks at a border railroad station. The convoy went back to Magyarovar and were housed in a school, where they were under close guard. Finally they were given safe conduct. (International Radiophoto)

Ex-Solon's Letter Is 26 Years Late

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — A letter reaching Phil D. Swing, attorney, was stamped: "Delay due to wrecked mail plane Jan. 10, 1930."

In 1930 Swing was a congressman. The letter was from a postmaster, asking reappointment. Swing checked back and found he had reappointed the postmaster. There was no other explanation of the letter's 26-year delay.

The couple said they frightened the bird away and treated the dog for gashes, scratches and cuts from the eagle's claws.

'Ghost Squadron'

TILLSONBURG, Ont. (AP) — A "ghost" squadron of 50 World War II planes has been sitting on the farm of Ernest Simmons in formation as though ready to take off, since 1945. He bought the Harvard trainers in 1945 to be repaired and sold, but the government vetoed the idea.

INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE reporter Katherine Clark stands beside her car in Vienna, Austria, where she finally arrived after being held virtually prisoner by the Russians in Hungary for 31 hours. She and other Americans who had left Budapest in a convoy were turned back by Russian soldiers in two tanks at a border railroad station. The convoy went back to Magyarovar and were housed in a school, where they were under close guard. Finally they were given safe conduct. (International Radiophoto)

Ex-Solon's Letter Is 26 Years Late

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — A letter reaching Phil D. Swing, attorney, was stamped: "Delay due to wrecked mail plane Jan. 10, 1930."

In 1930 Swing was a congressman. The letter was from a postmaster, asking reappointment. Swing checked back and found he had reappointed the postmaster. There was no other explanation of the letter's 26-year delay.

Unacquainted Trujillos Make Sweep of Prizes

Mike lives in Dalhart, Jeanette in Dumas. The towns are about 40 miles apart. The youngsters are not related and, in fact, never heard of each other.

San Francisco's Union Square is an underground four - story garage. Attendants, like firemen, use metal poles to slide between the parking levels.

WAKE UP RARIN' TO GO
Without Nagging Backache
Now! You can get the fast relief you need from nagging backache, headache and muscular aches and pains that often cause restless nights and miserable tired-out feelings. When these discomforts come on with over-exertion or stress and strain — you want relief — want it fast! Another disturbance may be mild bladder irritation following wrong food and drink — often setting up a restless uncomfortable feeling.
For quick relief get Doan's Pills. They work fast in 3 separate ways: 1. by speedy pain-relieving action to ease torment of nagging backache, headaches, muscular aches and pains. 2. by their soothing effect on bladder irritation. 3. by their mild diuretic action tending to increase output of the 15 miles of kidney tubes.
Find out how quickly this 3-way medicine goes to work. Enjoy a good night's sleep and the same happy relief millions have for over 60 years. Ask for new, large size and save money. Get Doan's Pills today!

PRESENTING THE Surprise Package of '57!

THE NEW Pontiac is Completely New from Power to Personality!

Fresh from 100,000 miles of testing, the '57 Pontiac is on display tomorrow! Even a brief once-over of Pontiac's sleek new lines tells you that you're in at the start of a styling revolution. And that glistening sheath conceals a carload of engineering "firsts"—all polished to watch-work perfection in the toughest test ever given a new car.

This '57 Pontiac pounded the road through 100,000 miles of tests . . . through it all Pontiac engineers refined and perfected every feature of this great car.

They made Pontiac's big, new power plant even more efficient than its predecessor, the engine that set over fifty new world records and led all eights in miles per gallon! They perfected the new suspension system, new controls and new Strato-Flight Hydra-Matic* to give you the smoothest riding, easiest handling—and safest—new car ever to hit the road!

AND THE FIRST CAR AT ANY PRICE WITH . . .

Star Chief • Super Chief • Chieftain.

ALBERS Feeds Millions for ONLY A PENNY...

One penny stands for the profit out of your dollar that Albers and the food chain industry on the average receives for doing business for you! Nearly 99 cents of your sales dollar goes to buy merchandise and to pay salaries, rent, utilities, equipment, and taxes. The one penny left over builds new stores and warehouses and pays stockholders for their investment. How is this possible? Self-service, cash and carry, large volume, fast turnover — and constant vigilance over costs. By feeding millions for a penny, Albers seeks to make its contribution to the strength of a greater America — Remember, Your Total Food Bill is Less When you Shop at Albers!

Japan Has All-Out Plan To Conquer Goodly Share of U. S. Tourist Trade

By SANFORD MARKEY
(Central Press Association)

Japan has a new plan to conquer the West.

It'll be completed within five years; cost around $100 million and when it succeeds not a bullet will be aimed, nor a harsh word uttered at the West.

Time - table of completion is geared to the anticipated first jet passenger airplane flight by a trans-Pacific airline from California to Japan, that will cut flight time between the two continents from 30 to under 12 hours.

Today, the tourist trade, that will see 125,000 visitors enjoying the beauties of Japan, is seventh among Japanese industries; its expected $45 million 1956 figure trailing such other industries as cotton textiles, iron and steel, aquatic products, vessels, and rayon textiles.

* * *

EACH YEAR, however, sees more and more Americans visiting Japan, with the bulk coming in the spring, during cherry blossom time, or in the autumn, when pleasant weather adds to the lustre of Japanese celebrations of the many religious festivals.

One phase of planning calls for extensive increase in hotel facilities. Already, Tokyo's famed Imperial hotel has embarked on a rebuilding program that will bring to 1,500 the number of available air - conditioned rooms. Tokyo's Shiba Park Hotel has been modernized and now boasts of having the lowest rate in Japan: $5 a day for a single room and three meals.

* * *

BESIDES the more than 100 accredited western - styled hotels, Japan has more than 50,000 ryokans — Japanese - styled hotels that are growing more and more popular among American tourists who seek to feel the spirit of the land.

Built of wood, they call for the removing of shoes before entering; the guest room is floored with tatani or mats; the bedding, futon, is laid out at night directly on the tatoni floor with quilted coverings, and native cuisine is served.

Today, the bulk of the tourist trade is restricted to the Tokyo area; the Hakone district, with its spas and Mount Fujiyama; Nara-Kyoto - Osaka, where Buddha and Shinto shrines remain untouched by World War II bombardment; Inland sea route with its beautiful shoreline, and proximity to Hiroshima, and the country's 19 natural parks thatnot only offer scenic enchantment, but a host of sporting activities ranging from skiing to swimming.

* * *

TRAVEL IN Japan for today's tourist is adequate, although much work remains to be done on the roads outside the major cities. Railroads travel on time, but coal-burning engines — especially in mountain tunnels — don't help. However, the railroads are embarking on a program of modernization calling for wide use of deisels and greater electrification of lines.

Despite these minor inconveniences, Japan remains a tourist paradise. Costs are low and hotels and restaurants insist you do not tip — a 10 per cent charge is added to your bill to mee that obligation.

* * *

NATIVE industries offer pearls, silks, chinaware, furs, bamboo products, dolls, cameras, cloisonne, lacquerware and color prints, at bargain prices.

English - trained guides are courteous and considerate, and the government is increasing its program of licensing guides to meet the anticipated flow of 300,000 tourists within five years.

Engineer Says Ohio Valley Due for Flood

CINCINNATI (AP)—Maj. Gen. E. C. Itschner, chief of engineers, U. S. Army, said today that the Ohio Valley is a "sitting duck" for a big flood.

Addressing the Ohio Valley Improvement Assn., the general said: "You are gambling against unpredictable nature with perhaps greater stakes than any group of people ever has gambled in human history."

Gen. Itschner said the area of effort in which there was lagging "seriously and dangerously" is the flood control program.

The U.S. engineers now are reanalyzing the flood potentialities of the valley and also studying or contemplated to cope with flood potentialities.

Gen. Itschner said old computations, carried out by hand and slide-rule, could cover only a fraction of the alternative calculations that can be estimated by modern electronic computers now in use.

Turning to navigation, he said it is "not unreasonable" to look forward to 150 million tons of freight a year, moving on the Ohio as early as 1965. The engineers, he said, "are well aware" of the responsibilities coming up as a result of "this enormous vitality in the Ohio Valley."

In addition to flood control and navigation, he said, the corps will study water-resource development objectives and new or alternate reservoir sites."

Japan Has All-Out Plan To Conquer Goodly Share of U. S. Tourist Trade

By SANFORD MARKEY
(Central Press Association)

Japan has a new plan to conquer the West.

It'll be completed within five years; cost around $100 million and when it succeeds not a bullet will be aimed, nor a harsh word uttered at the West.

Time - table of completion is geared to the anticipated first jet passenger airplane flight by a trans-Pacific airline from California to Japan, that will cut flight time between the two continents from 30 to under 12 hours.

Today, the tourist trade, that will see 125,000 visitors enjoying the beauties of Japan, is seventh among Japanese industries; its expected $45 million 1956 figure trailing such other industries as cotton textiles, iron and steel, aquatic products, vessels, and rayon textiles.

* * *

EACH YEAR, however, sees more and more Americans visiting Japan, with the bulk coming in the spring, during cherry blossom time, or in the autumn, when pleasant weather adds to the lustre of Japanese celebrations of the many religious festivals.

The Japanese recognize they must expand their hotels, build new resorts, modernize their railroads, and rebuild their entir road system in order to meet the tourist challenge from other parts of the world.

One phase of planning calls for extensive increase in hotel facilities. Already, Tokyo's famed Imperial hotel has embarked on a rebuilding program that will bring to 1,500 the number of available air - conditioned rooms. Tokyo's Shiba Park Hotel has been modernized and now boasts of having the lowest rate in Japan: $5 a day for a single room and three meals.

* * *

BESIDES the more than 100 accredited western - styled hotels, Japan has more than 50,000 ryokans — Japanese - styled hotels that are growing more and more popular among American tourists who seek to feel the spirit of the land.

Built of wood, they call for the removing of shoes before entering; the guest room is floored with tatani or mats; the bedding, futon, is laid out at night directly on the tatoni floor with quilted coverings, and native cuisine is served.

Today, the bulk of the tourist trade is restricted to the Tokyo area; the Hakone district, with its spas and Mount Fujiyama; Nara-Kyoto - Osaka, where Buddha and Shinto shrines remain untouched by World War II bombardment; Inland sea route with its beautiful shoreline, and proximity to Hiroshima, and the country's 19 natural parks tha tnot only offer scenic enchantment, but a host of sporting activities ranging from skiing to swimming.

* * *

TRAVEL IN Japan for today's tourist is adequate, although much work remains to be done on the roads outside the major cities. Railroads travel on time, but coal-burning engines — especially in mountain tunnels — don't help. However, the railroads are embarking on a program of modernization calling for wide use of deisels and greater electrification of lines.

Despite these minor inconveniences, Japan remains a tourist paradise. Costs are low and hotels and restaurants insist you do not tip — a 10 per cent charge is added to your bill to mee that obligation.

Woman, Expert In Shoplifting, Exposes Tricks

By MEL HEIMER
(Central Press Association)

NEW YORK — Because it isn't practical for her to disclose her identity to the general public in connection with her work, it is likely Mary Bragoti never will be a guest on television's What's My Line? — but notice hereby is served that that program's management that until they get Mary, they haven't lived.

Her job without a doubt is one of the most unusual in the world. She draws a good weekly paycheck—for shoplifting.

A Bronx locksmith's wife, and mother of two children (she prefers not to give out her married name), Mary started her working career as a salesgirl, was promoted to store detective and then went on to become a professional shoplifter, as part of an Allentown, Pa., department store's campaign to train its employes to be on the lookout for thieves.

"I enjoy my work tremendously," Mary says. "There's something new to learn every day and you've just got to remain at least one step ahead of the fast - moving, quick - witted shoplifters preying on stores throughout the country."

* * *

ASSOCIATED with William F. Alexander, a well - known security consultant for department stores throughout the U. S. A., Mary is a dark and pretty woman who already has picked up more than 20,000 shoplifters as a detective.

The idea to set her up in a shoplifting program of her own came from Max Hess, Allentown retailer who has been visibly impressed by the report that more than $300 million worth of merchandise is stolen annually from stores.

Hess' employes attend classes at which Mary, wearing a black tricks and devices. Then later, she removes the disguise and wanders through the store trying to see what she can take that isn't nailed down. Any employe catching her in the act is rewarded by Hess.

She makes the trip from New York to Pennsylvania several times weekly to see how many items she can swipe. In all Allentown, Hess is the only one who knows what she looks like. "For security reasons," she says, "I rarely appear in court, even after I make an arrest."

As an expert on the species, Mary reports that the "lifters" more often than not are so - called "good citizens" — housewives, lawyers, nurses, students and even clergymen. Not a complete cynic, she still feels that it's a basic human desire to get something for nothing.

* * *

The shopping bag — A woman might hold up a slip from a counter and, while purportedly examining it, drop another item behind it into the bag.

The slip coat—This is worked by two thieves; one engages a clerk in conversation, while the other slips his hand through a slit in his coat and brings it back—with say, a bottle of perfume in it.

* * *

AND SO ON and on. There are dozens of methods. After describing them to the salesgirls, Mary also knocks down the "old wives' tale" about the necessity of arresting a shoplifter outside a store.

"An arrest can easily be made inside a store for asportation—or, take and intent," she says.

"Furthermore, stores can use photos of stolen items in court rather than the actual merchandise. Too much stolen merchandise is lost by stores throughout the year through use as evidence."

Her 14-year-old boy and 8-year-old girl are two children, at least, who are growing up with respect for the law. Mary says they're proud of her work, and "my little girl tells me to arrest all of her young friends who were bad during the day."

Maggia, Cake Artist De Luxe, Honors Presidents, Royalty

By RICHARD S. BLOCH
(Central Press Association)

WASHINGTON — At a recent dinner meeting here of the Carpenters and Joiners union, President Dwight Eisenhower cut the first slice of a most unusual cake. It was five feet tall, topped by a figure of a carpenter made out of sugar.

The creation was fashioned by Clement Maggia, whose name has become a legend among Presidents and kings. Every President since Warren Harding in 1924 has tasted and admired his masterpieces of culinary art. His cakes for President Franklin D. Roosevelt's birthday celebrations helped to launch the infantile paralysis fund campaigns each year until World War II broke out.

With a twist of his agile wrist, Clement can turn his royal icing into bluebirds on the wing, gliding swans, sea shells, orchids and a hundred other objects. "It's not as easy as that" he will tell you, "it takes practice, practice, practice."

Maggia's many years as pastry chef in the finest hotels and restaurants in the country were stepping stones to international acclaim. At the International Culinary Olympics, recently held at Frankfurt-on-Main, Germany, Clement's cake, entered as part of the American exhibit, won the gold medal.

The cake was a sugar globe, circled by five frosting doves, carrying out the motif of the word, Peace, written in 15 different languages around the cake.

* * *

CLEMENT likes to remember the cake he decorated for King George and Queen Elizabeth of England when they visited the White House in 1937. "I made a crown of icing," he said, "that was a perfect imitation of red velvet."

Maggia's large masterpieces include a painstakingly accurate replica of the Capitol and an exact duplicate of the Arc de Triomphe. One of his heaviest creations was a 600-pound cake which he made for Kate Smith.

Ice carving is another delicate art for which Clement is famous. At a party given by Perle Mesta, the center of attraction was a shimmering French poodle, a canine species which the former lady ambassador to Luxembourg adores.

* * *

When he isn't decorating cakes or carving in ice, Maggia finds time to help others learn the skill in his home studio where he conducts a cake decorating class for housewives, caterers and pastry chefs.

Any day will find a good supply of Maggia's royal icing on hand with the students squeezing pretty designs from paper cones. He teaches ice carving in the garage, mostly to chefs.

What does he suggest to his women students who want to diet, but just can't resist the luscious cakes which they decorate? "Just take little tastes," he says. "That's what I've been doing for 50 years."

Maggia's many years as pastry chef in the finest hotels and restaurants in the country were stepping stones to international acclaim. At the International Culinary Olympics, recently held at Frankfurt-on-Main, Germany, Clement's cake, entered as part of the American exhibit, won the gold medal.

The cake was a sugar globe, circled by five frosting doves, carrying out the motif of the word, Peace, written in 15 different languages around the cake.

• • •

CLEMENT likes to remember the cake he decorated for King George and Queen Elizabeth of England when they visited the White House in 1937. "I made a crown of icing," he said, "that was a perfect imitation of red velvet."

Maggia's large masterpieces include a painstakingly accurate replica of the Capitol and an exact duplicate of the Arc de Triomphe. One of his heaviest creations was a 600-pound cake which he made for Kate Smith.

Ice carving is another delicate art for which Clement is famous. At a party given by Perle Mesta, the center of attraction was a shimmering French poodle, a canine species which the former lady ambassador to Luxembourg adores.

• • •

MAGGIA is just as adept at turning out elephants, eagles, human figures, anything that is apropos for the occasion. With wood chisels, he once carved a model aircraft carrier from a 300-pound block of ice.

When he isn't decorating cakes or carving in ice, Maggia finds time to help others learn the skill in his home studio where he conducts a cake decorating class for housewives, caterers and pastry chefs.

Any day will find a good supply of Maggia's royal icing on hand with the students squeezing pretty designs from paper cones. He teaches ice carving in the garage, mostly to chefs.

What does he suggest to his women students who want to diet, but just can't resist the luscious cakes which they decorate? "Just take little tastes," he says. "That's what I've been doing for 50 years."

Herb Score Voted as Top Soph of Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Herb Score, Cleveland's fastballing lefthander, had been a better season in 1956 than he had in 1955 when he was named American League Rookie-of-the-Year.

For his 1956 performance, Score today was voted the Sophomore-of-the-Year in the annual Associated Press poll. Herb and Frank Lary of Detroit received the bulk of the votes cast by members of the Baseball Writers Assn. of America.

Score was named on 103 ballots, Lary on 63 and Johnny Kucks of the New York Yankees on 32. Tom Sturdivant of the Yanks, with four and Hector Lopez of Kansas City, Elston Howard of the Yanks, Rocky Colavito of Cleveland and Billy Klaus of Boston, who had one each, rounded out the 206 votes.

A 16-game winner in 1955 when he set an American League record for first year pitchers by striking out 245 batters, Score won 20 games in his sophomore campaign while losing only 9. He again topped the junior circuit in strikeouts with 263 and finished second to the Yanks' Whitey Ford in the earned run competition with a 2.57 average.

The 23-year-old southpaw is a native of Rosedale, N. Y. He lives in Lake Worth, Fla. Cleveland signed him to a bonus contract (reportedly for $60,000) in 1952.

Logart Collects TKO over Harris

CHICAGO (AP)—Clarence (Duke) Harris' attempted climb in the welterweight ranks was blocked Wednesday night by Cuban Isaac Logart, who stopped the 24-year-old Detroit hopeful in the seventh.

Logart, fourth rated 147-pound contender, danced and parried with his inexperienced foe through five rather dull rounds of the scheduled 10. Then he set him up for the TKO in the sixth.

Tulane's 10-3 victory over Mississippi was its 23rd victory in 37 meetings with Old Miss.

Gopher-Iowa Quarterbacks Work Hard

Where the thought of running with the ball might once have offended the T-quarterbacks, Cox and Ploen make a habit of it, and a productive one.

True, Cox operates from Minnesota's split-T, which requires th quarterback to leg it with the rest of the backs. With Cox, though, it's more than a duty. He's making a career out of it.

For the last three games the Gopher junior has averaged around 20 carries a game, for about 4.5 yards a clip. He has been Minnesota's major running threat since he first broke into the starting lineup three weeks ago.

His passing reputation prevents enemy defenses from ganging up against his running plays and his knack for digging out a couple of extra yards helps him in the tough situations.

Ploen handles himself in much the same fashion. A year ago he was lost behind another fine Hawkeye quarterback, Jerry Reichow. This season has done more than Reichow ever did.

In 45 carries, he has averaged 5.8 yards a crack. He has completed 13 passes for 173 yards and rolled up more than 400 yards total offense.

Nears Sulky Mark

YONKERS, N. Y. (AP) — Billy Haughton, who led the nation's harness race drivers with 168 victories last year, is virtually certain to set a new mark.

Gopher-Iowa Quarterbacks Work Hard

Where the thought of running with the ball might once have offended the T-quarterbacks, Cox and Ploen make a habit of it, and a productive one.

True, Cox operates from Minnesota's split-T, which requires th quarterback to leg it with the rest of the backs. With Cox, though, it's more than a duty. He's making a career out of it.

For the last three games the Gopher junior has averaged around 20 carries a game, for about 4.5 yards a clip. He has been Minnesota's major running threat since he first broke into the starting lineup three weeks ago.

His passing reputation prevents enemy defenses from ganging up against his running plays and his knack for digging out a couple of extra yards helps him in the tough situations.

Ploen handles himself in much the same fashion. A year ago he was lost behind another fine Hawkeye quarterback, Jerry Reichow. This season has done more than Reichow ever did.

In 45 carries, he has averaged 5.8 yards a crack. He has completed 13 passes for 173 yards and rolled up more than 400 yards total offense.

Nears Sulky Mark

YONKERS, N. Y. (AP) — Billy Haughton, who led the nation's harness race drivers with 168 victories last year, is virtually certain to set a new mark.

64 Americans Arrive for Olympic Games

New Effort Is Made To Change Minds of Withdrawal Nations

MELBOURNE (AP)—The first big planeload of the mighty Yank team arrived today as international Olympic officials sought to lead some of the withdrawn nations back into the Melbourne fold.

The group of 64 Americans headed by Kenneth Wilson, president of the U.S. Olympic Committee, landed in bright sunshine at Essendon Airport.

Some sparkle had gone out of the preparations for the massive international sports spectacle opening Nov. 22 by the withdrawals of Holland, Spain, Red China and Iraq. Efforts were started today by Wilfred Kent-Hughes chairman of the organizing committee, and Otto Mayer, chancellor of the International Olympic Committee, to lure some countries, especially Holland, back into the games.

Kent-Hughes, who appealed to the nations of the world to overcome international distrust and jealousies in the true spirit of the Olympics, set the wheels in motion by cabling the Dutch national Olympic committee to reconsider its decision.

Wilson, who had a big smile when he entered the airport at the head of the gay American group—many of them clad in Bermuda shorts — was sober-faced when advised of the latest developments in the Olympic crisis since his party left Honolulu.

"I am naturally grieved by reports of the withdrawals of some nations," he said. "I sincerely hope Holland and the other countries will reconsider."

The American main vanguard today consisted of 16 wrestlers and 11 canoeists plus administrative officials and newspapermen.

Friday two more planeloads will land in the afternoon and early evening carrying some of the biggest names in track and field and rowing. Among them sculler Jack B. Kelly, Jr. American champion and brother of Grace, the outstarding Yale eight which is in for a tough fight to maintain American supremacy in this rowing classic, track and fielders Parry O'Brien, world record holding shotputter, Lou Jones, fastest 400 meter runner of all time, broadjumper John Bennett, sprinters Ira Murchison and Thane Baker, hurdler Jack Davis and middledistance aces Tom Courtney and Lon Spurrier.

Russian Athletes Said 'Collossal'

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — Famous coach Franz Stampfl, writing in today's Melbourne Argus, warns Australia the Russian athletes are "collossal."

They'll give American and other countries a tremendous shock in the games, he said. They're set for a lot of medals unless they crack up badly under competition.

The outstanding thing about them is the way they go about their work, he wrote. There is no wasting time. There is just grim determination.

Midwest's Best All-America Bets: Quarterback and Ends

CHICAGO (AP) —The midwest's strongest All-America bids, as the football season rolls into the home stretch, are concentrated at the quarterback and end positions.

This area's selection board for the AP honor team originally figured the sectional battle for quarterback honors was between Notre Dame's Paul Hornung and Purdue's Len Dawson.

But no such added starters in the All-America scramble have popped up as Bobby Cox of Minnesota, Ken Fleen of Iowa and Pat Wilson of Michigan State's No. 4 team in the national AP poll.

At the end posts, Michigan's Ron Kramer and Purdue's Lamar Lundy are powerful candidates with Kramer adjudged by the board to be perhaps the midwest's best football player at this writing.

But other strong wingmen are 6-pound Frank Gillum, a terror in a fine Iowa line; Leo Brown, Ohio State's amazingly good 168-pounder; Wisconsin's Dave Howard; and Tony Kolodziej, a fresh and fierce candidate from Michigan State.

Halfback — Abe Woodson, the Illinois speedster who is the "coaches' back of the Big Ten"; Ohio State's Don Clark; and Northwestern's Bob McKeiver.

Lions' 'Senior Tackle' Ceremony Slated Today

The Blue Lions will run through their last practice of the season Thursday afternoon at Gardner Park, as they prepare to meet Circleville here Friday night.

The six graduating members of the squad will be honored at a "Senior Tackle" ceremony. Each senior will choose the member of the team he would most like to tackle. The senior will then run through a gantlet made up of whistling, hooting and slapping team-mates and will find, at the end of the rows, the object of his defensive affections.

Then it will be up to the boys, Paul Cox, Ted Clarke, Arnold Ward, John Bainter and Eldon Brown to throw their final practice tackle for the Blue Lions. Bob Hunter, who has been nursing an injury all season, probably will not be able to take part.

Washington has been practicing hard all week and has the stuff to beat Circleville. It's up to the boys to see if they can leave their fans with a good final showing.

Circleville has three sophomores in the backfield, but balances this with four senior linemen. The other three starters are juniors.

Illinois, Perdue Stars Setting Pace

CHICAGO (AP) — Illinois and Purdue, currently running in the second division of the Big Ten football title race, have the conferences two best yard gainers.

Illinois' Abe Woodson tops the ball carriers with 445 yards in 75 trips for a 5.9 average. Held to a season's low of 66 yards last week by Purdue, Woodson will try to boost his rushing standard against Michigan Saturday.

Bill Hartack had two big days at Laurel in 1955. On April 25 he won with six of seven mounts and on Nov. 5 he scored with six horses out of eight mounts.

CHICAGO (AP) —The midwest's strongest All-America bids, as the football season rolls into the home stretch, are concentrated at the quarterback and end positions.

This area's selection board for the AP honor team originally figured the sectional battle for quarterback honors was between Notre Dame's Paul Hornung and Purdue's Len Dawson.

But no such added starters in the All-America scramble have popped up as Bobby Cox of Minnesota, Ken Pleen of Iowa and Pat Wilson of Michigan State's No. 4 team in the national AP poll.

At the end posts, Michigan's Ron Kramer and Purdue's Lamar Lundy are powerful candidates with Kramer adjudged by the board to be perhaps the midwest's best football player at this writing.

But other strong wingmen are 215-pound Frank Gilliam, a terror in a fine Iowa line; Leo Brown, Ohio State's amazingly good 168-pounder; Wisconsin's Dave Howard; and Tony Kolodziej, a fresh and fierce candidate from Michigan State.

At other positions, the board comes up with these well-studied nominees:

Halfback — Abe Woodson, the Illinois speedster who is the "coaches' back of the Big Ten"; Ohio State's Don Clark; and Northwestern's Bob McKeiver.

Lions' 'Senior Tackle' Ceremony Slated Today

The Blue Lions will run through their last practice of the season Thursday afternoon at Gardner Park, as they prepare to meet Circleville here Friday night.

The six graduating members of the squad will be honored at a "Senior Tackle" ceremony. Each senior will choose the member of the team he would most like to tackle. The senior will then run through a gantlet made up of whistling, hooting and slapping team-mates and will find, at the end of the rows, the object of his defensive affections.

Then it will be up to the boys, Paul Cox, Ted Clarke, Arnold Ward, John Bainter and Eldon Brown to throw their final practice tackle for the Blue Lions. Bob Hunter, who has been nursing an injury all season, probably will not be able to take part.

Washington has been practicing hard all week and has the stuff to beat Circleville. It's up to the boys to see if they can leave their fans with a good final showing.

Circleville has three sophomores in the backfield, but balances this with four senior linemen. The other three starters are juniors.

Illinois, Perdue Stars Setting Pace

CHICAGO (AP) — Illinois and Purdue, currently running in the second division of the Big Ten football title race, have the conferences two best yard gainers.

Illinois' Abe Woodson tops the ball carriers with 445 yards in 75 trips for a 5.9 average. Held to a season's low of 66 yards last week by Purdue, Woodson will try to boost his rushing standard against Michigan Saturday.

Len Dawson, at Purdue, has gained 582 yards, 576 of them through the air with 47 completions in 79 attempts for 5 touchdowns.

Bill Hartack had two big days at Laurel in 1955. On April 25 he won with six of seven mounts and on Nov. 5 he scored with six horses out of eight mounts.

Ivan Turns On The Electricity

MOWCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union hopes to complete electrification of more than half its railroad routes by 1970 in a campaign to eliminate interruptions due to winter weather conditions.

Losses in freight traffic during winter run as high as 20 to 30 million tons annually, says a Soviet economic review. Most of this can be eliminated through use of electric locomotives "the capacity of which increase rather than drop in low temperatures," the review added.

Ivan Turns On The Electricity

MOWCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union hopes to complete electrification of more than half its railroad routes by 1970 in a campaign to eliminate interruptions due to winter weather conditions.

Losses in freight traffic during winter run as high as 20 to 30 million tons annually, says a Soviet economic review. Most of this can be eliminated through use of electric locomotives "the capacity of which increase rather than drop in low temperatures," the review added.

Cancer Society Board Convenes

Plans Discussed For '57 Fund Drive

Plans for next April's fund-raising campaign were reviewed Wednesday night when the Fayette County unit of the American Cancer Society held its first board meeting of the new fiscal year at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer N. Reed. Mrs. Reed is executive secretary of the unit.

Mrs. Howard S. Harper, new president of the group, expressed her appreciation for the interest being shown in unit's year - round, three-fold program which emphasizes research, education and service.

Reports were presented by Mrs. Robert Sanderson, secretary, and by Elmer Reed unit treasurer. Reed reviewed the budget for the new year starting in October, indicating a $5,000 goal for the April fund campaign which will be sponsored again by Phi Beta Psi Sorority.

• • •

MRS. N. M. REIFF, education chairman, disclosed that cancer films have been shown to eight organizations, including parent-teacher groups, home demonstration groups and Granges, during the last month. Organizations wishing to utilize this service, may contact Mrs. Reiff or Mrs. Reed.

The service committee, headed by Mrs. Paul Pennington, reported that two new patients have received one or more of the free services provided by the local unit. These include dressings, home needs and transportation.

Other board members attending the meeting were Mrs. James Perrill, William Tooker, Dr. Robert Anderson, Mrs. Lee Mossbarger, Miss Gretchen Darlington, Harold Hazard, Mrs. William Junk, Mrs. William McArthur, George Inskeep, the Rev. W. Neil Hand and Dr. Robert Hagerty.

The board's next meeting will be held in January.

WHS Notes

By SARA TERHUNE

There were tears in the eyes of the proud parents and the band members when the seniors came through the impressive and traditional Hour Glass last Friday night.

Everyone was thrilled to have our good friend and classmate, Sara Core, march through with us.

It looked like Homecoming again at the game and Sock Hop afterward as there were many graduates back; including Seamen Larry Bishop, and Donald Parrett, Sharon Neff who is in Nurses Training at White Cross Hospital and Jo Reiff who is studying at Stephens College, who were among the familiar faces of last year.

• • •

AT THE Sock Hop there were several short skits. Becky Johnson was mistress of ceremonies, Arnold Ward did a comic take - off on "Romeo and Juliet;" Pat Cutlip, Susie Wissler, Peggy Bandy and Sara Tc hune dressed as "Roaring Twenties" flappers and executed "The Charleston" in a pantomime, and Bob Moats presided as custodian of the record player.

• • •

BLUE LION FANS are so happy to see Paul Cox in school this week. His injury in the game gave us quite a scare. Better luck next game, Paul! If you think Janis Gillen is searching the school yard and the town like she has lost something, she has — her dog "Jingles."

• • •

THE MEMBERS of the Band are looking forward to their trip to Cleveland this Sunday and are working hard to put on a good show. Director Neumann will cast a critical eye on them when they perform Friday night at the Washington - Circleville game as it is their dress rehearsal.

• • •

Courts

SUIT DISMISSED

An injunction suit and $100 damage action filed last April 20 by David Carr, Route 4, against Kay Carr, Route 3, have been dismissed in Common Pleas Court. Carr charged in his petition that Kay Carr had plowed up the barn lot on the Ella Carr farm on the Mt. Olive Rd., which he had under lease, and asked the court to issue and injunction to prevent the planting and tending crops on it. He also claimed $100 damage for plowing up permanent grass.

MARRIAGE LICENSE

Danny Alfred Schlichter, 18, farmer, Route 4, and Linda Lou Shelley, 17, city.

PROBATE COURT

The will of Thomas F. Cullen has been admitted to probate and Velma R. Cullen appointed executrix. Oscar Orr, George Campbell and Frank Thatcher have been named appraisers.

'Bugs' Moran Now Facing Federal Rap

COLUMBUS (AP)—George (Bugs) Moran, prohibition era rackets leader in Chicago, was released from Ohio Penitentiary today after serving 10 years of a robbery sentence.

He immediately was taken to Dayton to be arraigned on an old federal bank burglary charge.

Most of Moran's mob was wiped out in the infamous St. Valentine's Day massacre in Chicago during the dry era. He was not with his mob in a garage when it was machinegunned by men who posed as police officers.

Moran was sentenced to 10 to 25 years in the holdup of a tavern messenger in 1946 in the Dayton area. The tavern made a specialty of cashing paychecks, and the messenger was robbed while on the way there from a bank.

The 64-year-old Moran has been a male nurse in the psychiatric ward at the penitentiary. Warden Ralph W. Alvis today described him as "a very good prisoner."

Two other men were arrested with Moran and given similar sentences—Virgil Summers and Al Fouts.

Summers was released with Moran today and also picked up by federal authorities for the Ansonia bank burglary. Fouts was paroled last Sept. 20.

Three Former WHS Students Members Of OSU Glee Club

Three Washington C. H. High School graduates are members of the men's glee club at Ohio State University which is to appear in a joint concert with the University of Michigan glee club on the Ohio State campus Nov. 24.

They are Jon and Dick Pensyl, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Pensyl, 332 E. Paint St., and James H. Michael, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Michael, Route 4. Jon Pensyl and Michael are both seniors at Ohio State this year. Dick Pensyl is a sophomore. Jon Pensyl transferred to Ohio State from the University of Cincinnati, where he had been elected president of the glee club for this year.

The joint Ohio State- Michigan concert is to be given in the ballrooms of the Ohio Union at 8:15 p. m. on the weekend of the Ohio State - Michigan football game. It is considered one of the major musical events of the year at Ohio State.

An audience of approximately 1,500 can be accommodated.

Hubcap Theft, New Vandalism Reported

Just when Washington C. H. police were beginning to think the wave of hubcap thefts had been stopped with the arrest in Hillsboro of one adult and five teenagers, and that the epidemic of vandalism had faded out with Halloween, they received two reports Wednesday that caused them concern.

Jack Lytle, 426 Columbus Ave., said someone had taken all four hubcaps from his 1950 Studebaker while it was parked on S. Fayette St. near the Pennsylvania crossing, and Howard Brooks said the front windows of his home, 827 Briar Ave., had been broken out while he and his family were away.

Chief of Police Vaiden Long indicated that the patrols in the residential area will be stressed and that a closer watch will be kept on parked cars.

Judge Crawford Wins Court Seat

Judge Calvin Crawford of Dayton has won a seat in the 10-county Second District Court of Appeals over George W. Stengel of Miami County for the full term, commencing next Feb. 9.

The total unofficial vote, reported Wednesday night, gave Judge Crawford 163,455 votes against Stengel's 112,015, a majority of 51,440 for the Dayton jurist who carried his home county of Montgomery by 68,128 according to unofficial returns.

Fayette County which is a part of the Second District gave Judge Crawford a vote of 2,725 and Stengel 3,656.

Leadership Group Studies Mending

Twenty-five women attended a leader training meeting Wednesday to gain information on the mending of better clothes.

Representing 12 home demonstration clubs, they learned how to mend in the most inconspicuous manner by means of a re-weave patch, the thermoplastic press -on patch, overhand patch, and the darning method. The meeting was conducted in the auditorium of the Dayton Power and Light Co.

Miss Edna Callahan, extension specialist at Ohio State University, explained the importance of adapting the right type of repair to the fabric and garment being repaired. Miss Callahan demonstrated samples of the repairs to show members of the home demonstration clubs in Fayette County.

15-Year-Old Youth Awaits Hearing on Greenfield Thefts

A 15-year-old youth, picked up by Greenfield police for robbing six places there during the last five months, has been turned over to the Welfare Department here to await a hearing Juvenile Court.

A preliminary investigation disclosed that the youth's mother is dead and that he had run away from his aunt's home where he had been staying. He was brought to Fayette County because his parents had lived here and he made this his home until recently.

When he appears in Juvenile Court, he is to be asked about robberies of the Cross Bros. Service Station, Pearce's Restaurant, Fenner's Service Station, Forrest Charles Service Station, Rexall Drug Store and Tom Flynn Grocery in Greenfield.

that I will be an American first and a Democrat second,'' Lausche's senatorial victory statement read.

It was issued before election returns showed that Democrats would control the House in Washington but might be in position to lose Senate rule to Republicans, depending on how Lausche voted.

Democrats took only one elective state office in Tuesday's GOP sweep that saw Eisenhower set two state records in capturing Ohio's 25 electoral votes.

Complete unofficial returns gave Eisenhower 2,266,859 popular votes to 1,439,151 for Adlai E. Stevenson, his Democratic opponent. Ike's total surpassed his 1952 record vote of 2,100,391 in Ohio. No other presidential candidate ever topped the two million mark in Ohio.

And Eisenhower's 827,708 margin over Stevenson surpassed the 773,336 record plurality former GOP President Herbert Hoover received in Ohio over the late Alfred E. Smith of New York. Eisenhower's margin over Stevenson in Ohio four years ago barely exceeded a half-million.

The state Legislature remained under GOP control.

Diabetes Week Is Sponsored By Rotary Club

The Washington C. H. Rotary Club will sponsor a testing campaign here from Nov. 11 through Nov. 17 as its part in National Diabetes Detection Week.

Last year the city grade school children were surveyed and this year the first six grades in the county school system will be tested.

In addition to this, National Cash Register Co. and Armco will be participating. If the drive meets with community approval it will be set up on a much wider scale next year.

The service is performed free of charge, the same as the Mobile Chest Unit service. If, during this week, any individual wishes to participate, he should bring a urine specimen to his local physician, who will check it free of charge.

The effort met with approval last year at a state level and was honored with recognition. It is hoped that as many persons as possible will realize the importance of this test and will participate.

Sheriff Attends State Meeting

Sheriff Orland Hays, smiling broadly over the heavy vote he was given for reelection in Tuesday's election and wearing a civilian suit in place of his uniform, left here early Thursday for a meeting of the trustees of the Buckeye Sheriffs Assn. in Columbus.

Referring to the full agenda for the meeting, Hays said he did not expect to get back until time for Thursday night's meeting of the Fayette County Republican Central Committee, of which he is chairman.

Much of the meeting in Columbus, he said, will be devoted to plans for the annual state convention Dec. 5 in Columbus.

Cincinnati OKs Seven Bond Issues

CINCINNATI (AP)—All seven bond issues proposals, totaling $43 million, were approved in Tuesday's election by Cincinnati and Hamilton county voters.

The sums and their purpose include: slum clearance, $9 million; expressways, $15½ million; county streets, $6 million; city streets, $6½ million; county sewers $4 million; city sewers, $2½ million; University of Cincinnati improvements, $1.6 million.

Farm-City Week Observance Planned by WCH Rotary Club

Robert M. Dimit, extension rural sociologist at Ohio State University, will be the guest speaker at next Tuesday's meeting of the Washington C. H. Rotary Club.

Rotary will feature an observance of Farm - City Week on their program and Prof. Dimit will speak to the group on "The Changing Scene in Rural Ohio."

• • •

DIMIT was born on a farm in Butler County, Pa., graduated from Slippery Rock High School, and completed undergraduate and master's degrees at the Pennsylvania State University. He was teaching and on the research staff at Iowa State College from 1948 until 1952, and received his Ph. D degree from Iowa State College.

He spent 3½ years at the South Dakota State College, engaged in teaching and research as well as working closely with the Extension Service.

During World War II, he served with the U. S. Navy in the Pacific area as an officer on a destroyer. He has been on the staff at Ohio State University since Feb. 1, 1956, as an extension rural sociologist.

Wipert Songfests To Resume Nov. 23

The popular songfests which have been a monthly feature at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wipert, Sabina Rd., for several years, will be resumed Friday, Nov. 23, at 7:30 p. m. No song fests have been held since May because of illness and death in the Wipert family.

It is announced that a feature of the songfest will be a candlelight sing, under direction of Mrs. Gene Clay, and that other features are being planned. As usual all persons are asked to take "finger food" for the occasion.

The songfests are open to all lovers of music.

INDIAN ARROW ROOT

FAMOUS KIDNEY AND LIVER MEDICINE

Downtown Drug Store

We want every family to have a bottle of Indian ARROW ROOT while supply lasts. To prove the value of this wonderful product of Nature, we make this liberal offer. In the treatment of Stomach, Gall Bladder, Liver and Kidney trouble you will be delighted with its mild thorough results.

Within eight hours it will usually drive poisons from the body that are black as ink. Rheumatism and Neuritis pains and aches will as a rule start to disappear the second or third day, as nature is given a chance to function and regular elimination is restored.

Swelling and stiffness usually requires eight to ten doses. However, Bloating, Indigestion and Gas in the stomach are usually relieved with but one dose. Regulation of the bowels is most important and you will usually depend on full and free elimination within eight or ten hours after taking the first dose.

If you are bothered with Stubborn Cough or Cold, take one tablespoon full of INDIAN ARROW ROOT in a glass of water —add one teaspoon full of soda. Stir well. Within two to three doses your Cold will usually disappear.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE WITHOUT CALOMEL AND YOU'LL JUMP OUT OF BED IN THE MORNING RARIN' TO GO.

The liver should pour about 2 pints of bile juice into your bowels every day. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food may not digest. It may just decay in the bowels. Then gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. You feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

It takes mild, gentle Arrow Root to get these 2 pints of bile flowing freely to make you feel "up and up." This preparation contains 12 of the best herbs grown in America, and it will work bile off of the liver black as ink. Get a bottle of Arrow Root today at Downtown Drug Store.

For Constipation and Nervousness alone it is a God-send to any Man, Woman or Child who will take it. You can take one tablespoon of INDIAN ARROW ROOT in a glass of hot water and it will stop indigestion faster than all the Soda you can get in your stomach.

INDIAN ARROW ROOT is sold to you on an absolutely money back guarantee. If you are not satisfied with results, your purchase price will be refunded by your dealer.

If you buy a bottle of Indian Arrow Root for $2.00 Downtown Drug Store will give you a full $2.00 Bottle Absolutely Free

If the preparation is too bitter, add an equal part of lemon or grapefruit juice. Do not add orange juice.

Cancer Society Board Convenes

Plans Discussed For '57 Fund Drive

Plans for next April's fund-raising campaign were reviewed Wednesday night when the Fayette County unit of the American Cancer Society held its first board meeting of the new fiscal year at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer N. Reed. Mrs. Reed is executive secretary of the unit.

Mrs. Howard S. Harper, new president of the group, expressed her appreciation for the interest being shown in unit's year - round, three-fold program which emphasizes research, education and service.

Reports were presented by Mrs. Robert Sanderson, secretary, and Elmer Reed unit treasurer. Reed reviewed the budget for the new year starting in October, indicating a $5,000 goal for the April fund campaign which will be sponsored again by Phi Beta Psi Sorority.

• • •

MRS. N. M. REIFF, education chairman, disclosed that cancer films have been shown to eight organizations, including parent-teacher groups, home demonstration groups and Granges, during the last month. Organizations wishing to utilize this service, may contact Mrs. Reiff or Mrs. Reed.

The service committee, headed by Mrs. Paul Pennington, reported that two new patients have received one or more of the free services provided by the local unit. These include dressings, home needs and transportation.

Other board members attending the meeting were Mrs. James Perrill, William Tooker, Dr. Robert Anderson, Mrs. Lee Mossbarger, Miss Gretchen Darlington, Harold Hazard, Mrs. William Junk, Mrs. William McArthur, George Inskeep, the Rev. W. Neil Hand and Dr. Robert Hagerty.

The board's next meeting will be held in January.

WHS Notes

By SARA TERHUNE

There were tears in the eyes of the proud parents and the band members when the seniors came through the impressive and traditional Hour Glass last Friday night.

Everyone was thrilled to have our good friend and classmate, Sara Core, march through with us.

It looked like Homecoming again at the game and Sock Hop afterward as there were many graduates back; including Seamen Larry Bishop, and Donald Parrett, Sharon Neff who is in Nurses Training at White Cross Hospital and Jo Reiff who is studying at Stephens College, who were among the familiar faces of last year.

• • •

AT THE Sock Hop there were several short skits. Becky Johnson was mistress of ceremonies, Arnold Ward did a comic take - off on "Romeo and Juliet;" Pat Cutlip, Susie Wissler, Peggy Bandy and Sara Tolhune dressed as "Roaring Twenties" flappers and executed "The Charleston" in a pantomime, and Bob Moats presided as custodian of the record player.

• • •

BLUE LION FANS are so happy to see Paul Cox in school this week. His injury in the game gave us quite a scare. Better luck next game, Paul! If you think Janis Gillen is searching the school yard and the town like she has lost something, she has — her dog "Jingles."

• • •

THE MEMBERS of the Band are looking forward to their trip to Cleveland this Sunday and are working hard to put on a good show. Director Neumann will cast a critical eye on them when they perform Friday night at the Washington - Circleville game as it is their dress rehearsal.

• • •

Courts

SUIT DISMISSED

An injunction suit and $100 damage action filed last April 20 by David Carr, Route 4, against Kay Carr, Route 3, have been dismissed in Common Pleas Court. Carr charged in his petition that Kay Carr had plowed up the barn lot on the Ella Carr farm on the Mt. Olive Rd., which he had under lease, and asked the court to issue and injunction to prevent the planting and tending crops on it. He also claimed $100 damage for plowing up permanent grass.

The will of Thomas F. Cullen has been admitted to probate and Velma R. Cullen appointed executrix. Oscar Orr, George Campbell and Frank Thatcher have been named appraisers.

'Bugs' Moran Now Facing Federal Rap

COLUMBUS (AP)—George (Bugs) Moran, prohibition era rackets leader in Chicago, was released from Ohio Penitentiary today after serving 10 years of a robbery sentence.

He immediately was taken to Dayton to be arraigned on an old federal bank burglary charge.

Most of Moran's mob was wiped out in the infamous St. Valentine's Day massacre in Chicago during the dry era. He was not with his mob in a garage when it was machinegunned by men who posed as police officers.

Moran was sentenced to 10 to 25 years in the holdup of a tavern messenger in 1946 in the Dayton area. The tavern made a specialty of cashing paychecks, and the messenger was robbed while on the way there from a bank.

The 64-year-old Moran has been a male nurse in the psychiatric ward at the penitentiary. Warden Ralph W. Alvis today described him as "a very good prisoner."

Two other men were arrested with Moran and given similar sentences—Virgil Summers and Al Fouts.

Summers was released with Moran today and also picked up by federal authorities for the Ansonia bank burglary. Fouts was paroled last Sept. 20.

Three Former WHS Students Members Of OSU Glee Club

Three Washington C. H. High School graduates are members of the men's glee club at Ohio State University which is to appear in a joint concert with the University of Michigan glee club on the Ohio State campus Nov. 24.

They are Jon and Dick Pensyl, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Pensyl, 332 E. Paint St., and James H. Michael, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Michael, Route 4. Jon Pensyl and Michael are both seniors at Ohio State this year. Dick Pensyl is a sophomore. Jon Pensyl transferred to Ohio State from the University of Cincinnati, where he had been elected president of the glee club for this year.

The joint Ohio State- Michigan concert is to be given in the ballrooms of the Ohio Union at 8:15 p. m. on the weekend of the Ohio State - Michigan football game. It is considered one of the major musical events of the year at Ohio State.

An audience of approximately 1,500 can be accommodated.

Hubcap Theft, New Vandalism Reported

Just when Washington C. H. police were beginning to think the wave of hubcap thefts had been stopped with the arrest in Hillsboro of one adult and five teenagers, and that the epidemic of vandalism had faded out with Halloween, they received two reports Wednesday that caused them concern.

Jack Lytle, 426 Columbus Ave., said someone had taken all four hubcaps from his 1950 Studebaker while it was parked on S. Fayette St. near the Pennsylvania crossing, and Howard Brooks said the front windows of his home, 827 Briar Ave., had been broken out while he and his family were away.

Chief of Police Vaiden Long indicated that the patrols in the residential area will be stressed and that a closer watch will be kept on parked cars.

Judge Crawford Wins Court Seat

Judge Calvin Crawford of Dayton has won a seat in the 10-county Second District Court of Appeals over George W. Stengel of Miami County for the full term, commencing next Feb. 9.

The total unofficial vote, reported Wednesday night, gave Judge Crawford 163,455 votes against Stengel's 112,015, a majority of 51,440 for the Dayton jurist who carried his home county of Montgomery by 68,128 according to unofficial returns.

Fayette County which is a part of the Second District gave Judge Crawford a vote of 2,725 and Stengel 3,656.

Leadership Group Studies Mending

Twenty-five women attended a leader training meeting Wednesday to gain information on the mending of better clothes.

Representing 12 home demonstration clubs, they learned how to mend in the most inconspicuous manner by means of a re-weave patch, the thermoplastic press -on patch, overhand patch, and the darning method. The meeting was conducted in the auditorium of the Dayton Power and Light Co.

Miss Edna Callahan, extension specialist at Ohio State University, explained the importance of adapting the right type of repair to the fabric and garment being repaired. Miss Callahan demonstrated samples of the repairs to show members of the home demonstration clubs in Fayette County.
